

Overview

This forum will provide you with an overview of the information available to a student regarding their student financial aid as provided by the SIS Student Center.

At the end of this forum, you will:

- Be able to help a student find their financial aid information.
- Know what information is provided to the student.
- Have a general understanding of Student Financial Aid self-service.

Today we are going to cover:

Location of Student Financial Aid in the Student Center

- Where students go to view their financial aid information in SIS.

To Do Lists

- What is the purpose? How are they used by Student Financial Aid?

SFA Status

- Applications received.
- Student Cost of Attendance and Expected Family Contribution.
- Satisfactory Academic Progress.

Award Summary

- View the financial aid the student is eligible to receive.
- Print an award summary.
- Provide an estimated value for the student's Parent PLUS or Grad-PLUS Loan.

Accept/Decline Aid

- How students accept, decline or reduce the aid awarded to them.

- Due Date

The date the information is due to the Office of Student Financial Aid (SFA). If the student fails to meet this date, the type and amount of aid the student receives may be impacted.

- Received Date

The date the form was received by the SFA. This will allow the student to see that SFA received the form and if the due date was met.

- Status

The status will be one of three values:

Initiated	SFA has requested the information
Received	SFA has received the information and has not reviewed.
Complete	SFA has reviewed the information and that item has been completed. No further action is needed.

- Status Date

The date the status of the item was last updated.

- Comments:

Applications Received.

The Applications Received section displays the applications the student has filed with the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Possible applications include:

- FAFSA (Free Applications for Federal Student Aid)
- App for Special Scholarships (Application for Special Scholarships)
- Private Loan Applications

Each application will have a received date. The FAFSA received date will be the date the application was received by CPS (Central Processing System).

$36978			$212			$36766

The Estimated Cost of Attendance is the total cost of attending the university is based on the number of terms for one academic year, including tuition, books and supplies, and living expenses, used for determining financial aid eligibility.

The Expected Family Contribution is the amount a student’s family will be expected to contribute toward educational expenses (Estimated Cost of Attendance), as determined by the federal government from the information on the student’s FAFSA, and based on the number of terms.

The Financial Aid Need is the difference between the Estimated Cost of Attendance and the Expected Family Contribution. This will be the amount of need-based aid for which a student may be eligible.

If the Estimated Cost of Attendance or the Expected Family Contribution has not be calculated, no financial aid need will display.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Students must meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress standards in order to maintain eligibility for most financial aid. The percentage of hours a student successfully completes (as a percentage of hours attempted), the length of time needed to obtain the student's degree, and the student's grade point average, are all taken into consideration when calculating SAP.

Included in the SAP box are:

The student's financial aid eligibility Status for the specified term.

The student's:

There is a link to see the student's GPA requirements.

This link will display if the student has less than 90 hours of enrollment.

If the student is over 90 hours of enrollment, the GPA requirements will apply to the student SAP calculation.

This page also displays:

Required Completion Rate

The student's completion rate and whether they have met the requirement.

Maximum Time Frame

The student's hours and whether the number of hours are within the time frame.

If the student is accepting the aid, they can accept a reduced amount of the aid. When the student submits the acceptance, the student awards will be updated in real time.

If the student attempts to accept the Unsubsidized Loan aid before the Subsidized Loan aid, the system will generate an error message. Thus, the student will not be able to accept the less favorable aid.

If the student does not have to complete an acceptance for an award, the accept or decline option will not be available.

- Click accept all to accept all optional awards.
- Click decline all to decline all optional awards.
- Click clear all to clear all previous selections.
- Click update totals to update the Totals listed in the last row of this page when the Accepted amount is adjusted.

Click the Submit button to accept or decline the selected awards.

Students should contact the Student Financial Aid Office to make changes after accepting their aid.
