The Chair is responsible for the organization of services in the Department. In addition to the administrative roles of the chairs of committees, other services are organized as follows:

A. Rardin Family Medicine Center

   This site functions as a model ambulatory care training setting. As appropriate, family medicine care is provided patients on an independent and/or supervised basis by family medicine faculty, family medicine residents, and medical students.
B. OSU Family Medicine CarePoint East

This site functions as the ambulatory training center for the urban track residency program.

C. Family Medicine Center(s)

These sites serve primarily for medical practices related to family medicine services. From an educational perspective, these sites are used selectively for fellowship training, residency training, and medical student rotations.

D. Center for Integrative Medicine

This site serves primarily for medical practices related to integrative medicine. While there is an element of family medicine rendered to patients in this setting, most health care delivery is targeted toward the mission of the respective complementary and alternative medicine modalities. From an educational perspective, this site is used selectively for fellowship training, residency training, and medical student rotations.

E. Sports Medicine Sites

These sites serve primarily for medical practices related to sports medicine services. While there is an element of family medicine rendered to patients in these settings, most health care delivery is targeted toward the mission of sports medicine. From an educational perspective, these sites are used selectively for fellowship training, residency training, and medical student rotations.

F. Occupational Medicine Sites

These sites serve primarily for medical practices related to occupational medicine services. While there is an element of family medicine rendered to patients in these settings, most health care delivery is targeted toward the mission of occupational medicine. From an educational perspective, these sites are used selectively for residency training and at times for medical student rotations.

G. Mad River Family Practice Center

This site functions as the ambulatory training site for rural training.

H. In-Patient Family Medicine Service(s)

These services provide hospital-based care for family medicine patients primarily for the purpose of training family medicine residents but also for the purpose of teaching medical students. Patients typically are dismissed to the continuity of care panels of the family medicine residents and/or family medicine faculty members.

IV. OVERVIEW OF DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION & DECISION MAKING

Ideally all departmental policy and programmatic decisions will be made with input by faculty of the Department as a whole or by standing or special committees of the Department’s faculty. The Department will operate on the principle that the more important the issue to be decided, the more extensive the agreement on a decision needs to be. Open and widely shared discussion, both formal and informal, will constitute the primary method of reaching agreement on basic decisions. Ultimately, however, the Department’s Chair must retain responsibility for final decisions or recommendations to a higher level of administration.

V. APPOINTMENT, PROMOTION, TENURE, AND TERMINATION OF FACULTY

Guidelines for appointments, promotion, tenure and termination are detailed in a separate departmental document.

VI. DEPARTMENT CHAIR’S RESPONSIBILITY AND ADMINISTRATION

X. DEPARTMENT FACULTY WORKLOAD POLICY

While faculty, individually and collectively, in the Department of Family Medicine generally are involved in all three elements of the University’s mission – research, teaching, and service – there will be differences among faculty members in the relative amounts of effort each spends in these three areas. Hence, there may be significant differences in the assignment of responsibilities to individual faculty members at the discretion of or in negotiation with the Chair. Such differences in responsibilities will reflect individual faculty member’s strengths, interests, and abilities and will be based on three principles: 1) overall departmental workload expectation to ensure a balance of faculty time and effort spent in teaching, research, and service is the responsibility of the Chair; 2) types and amounts of instruction needed to accomplish the teaching mission of the Department; and 3) general expectations for research and creative activity by the faculty at any particular time.

XI. FACULTY DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The following statements do not constitute contractual obligations. Fluctuations in demands and resources within the Department and individual circumstances of faculty members may warrant temporary deviations from these statements.

A. Instructional Activity

All faculty members are expected to participate in some form of student, resident, or continuing medical education instruction for which they receive formal evaluations, at least once per year.

B. Scholarly Activity

All faculty members are expected to demonstrate scholarly productivity by publishing in peer-reviewed journals. Associate professors are expected to continue publishing at approximately the same rate as assistant professors, and are expected to begin developing national reputations within some area of expertise as demonstrated by involvement in professional organizations at a national level. Full professors, while they are expected to continue their scholarly activities, are also expected to take an active role in assisting with the development of the careers of junior faculty through collaborative research, publication activity, and serving on formal mentorship committees for the junior faculty.

Untenured faculty members who are on the regular tenure track are expected to submit research proposals for external funding and, if not funded, receive above average scores from peer-reviewed granting agencies prior to the completion of their sixth year of service. While continued grant submissions and funding are an expectation for tenured faculty members, tenured faculty whose activities are predominately research are expected to either have external funding or consistently high scores on their externally peer-reviewed grant submissions.

C. Service Activity

With the exception of those faculty members who are assigned research activities for 100 percent of their time and those who have negotiated a non patient care workload assignment with the Chair, all physician and other health care provider faculty members are expected to devote time to direct patient care activity. In addition, all faculty members are expected, at a minimum, to participate in one or more Department, College, University, or Hospital committee(s).

D. Balance Between Instructional, Scholarly, and Service Activity
Each academic/clinic program within the Department of Family Medicine is expected to be productive within each of these three areas. It is the responsibility of the program director to insure that an appropriate balance of activities is maintained between faculty members consistent with the expectation of the division.

XII. TRAVEL POLICY

During the course of fulfilling one’s responsibilities as a member of the faculty or staff, it is sometimes necessary to attend professional meetings, external to campus. The Department recognizes a responsibility to encourage and support such activity. Travel supported by the Department of Family Medicine must be approved as part of the annual travel budget, with the exception of that which is approved separately by the Chair. Faculty and staff can request travel support for the following reasons:

- Requested to attend regarding matters important to the Department.
- Professional abstract/paper submitted and accepted for presentation per a peer-review process.
- Required to attend because of elected or appointed service role in sponsoring organization.
- New to the Department and/or the profession with a need to establish professional experience and knowledge base.
- Recommended to attend by Chair of Department for professional development reasons.
- Personal desire to attend for professional development reasons.

Expectations: The Department follows the University Travel Policy. For all pre-approved travel per the annual departmental travel budget referenced above, each traveler must submit an OSU travel request prior to the trip and book airfare at least 30 days in advance of the trip. Upon return from the trip the traveler must submit, within 90 days, original itemized receipts for all expenses. Upon return from the professional meeting and usually not later than the next regularly scheduled faculty meeting, a written and/or oral report will be made to the Chair and/or faculty, as appropriate. If the purpose of the professional travel was primarily for continuing education purposes then it is expected that the new learning(s) be shared in an appropriate venue and time to the benefit of the greatest number of persons.

XIII. LEAVES & ABSENCES

The Department of Family Medicine uses established College, University, and OSUP policies regarding how leaves are considered and approved and how leaves of absences from duty are handled. The approval and reporting of faculty leave, to include absence for vacation, sick leave, attending scientific/professional meetings that occur on an annual average of not more than one day per week is accomplished by completing Form number 5171-A, Application for Leave. This same form with military orders attached is utilized to report and record the use of Military Leave. In addition, the Department requires faculty to request vacation time at least 30 days in advance. Reference should be made to the Office

A. Information on faculty professional leaves is presented in the OAA Policy on Faculty Professional Leaves (http://oaa.osu.edu/assets/files/documents/facultyprofessionalleaves.pdf). The information provided below supplements these policies. The department’s executive committee will review all requests for faculty professional leave and make a recommendation to the department chair based on the request complying with university policies regarding faculty leave.

XIV. COMPENSATION FROM PATIENT CARE AND EXTERNAL CONSULTING ACTIVITY

The following grid presents average percentages of effort, by appointment track, that may be dedicated to patient care by faculty members of the Department of Family Medicine. Variations may exist among faculty members at the same rank and in the same appointment track regarding percentages of effort dedicated to patient care based on other assigned responsibilities and salary recovery from grants. Family Medicine Foundation, LLC is responsible for providing patient care opportunities to the faculty and for related compensation.

The Department of Family Medicine compensation program includes an academic base that is benchmarked against AAMC on an annual basis. The academic base is used to set salaries associated with academic, research, and administrative responsibilities. The faculty member’s clinical salary is based on clinical productivity. The Department/Faculty Group Practice has an incentive plan that includes measures related to:

- patient satisfaction
- quality measures
- research and education goals
- citizenship
- discretion of the chair

Criteria for each category will be finalized by July 1st each year. Any bonuses produced by the bonus program or based on clinical productivity will be paid by August 31st of each year to those who are employed by the Faculty Group Practice/Department.
The University allows regular faculty members up to 20% time to consult as long as it does not conflict with assigned or expected responsibilities per University policy regarding conflict of interest. A form available from the Office of Academic Affairs must be completed and signed at department, college, and university levels approving each consulting event. The practice of medicine is not allowed as a consulting activity. For example, faculty who are members of FMF, LLC and who are compensated for patient care activities must be in compliance with their respective Physician Employment Agreement as well as the Ohio State University Physicians, Inc. Conflict of Interest Policy.

XV. ANNUAL SALARY ADJUSTMENTS

Guidelines for annual salary adjustments, including merit increases, are detailed in a separate departmental document.

XVI. FINANCIAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST

The Department of Family Medicine does not have a unique Financial Conflict of Interest policy but follows that of the University. Please see Financial Conflict of Interest Policy for Faculty at:

XVII. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

A. Promotion and Tenure Appeals

Please see Section V, “Appointment, Promotion, Tenure, and Termination of Faculty.”

B. Salary Appeals

The Salary Appeals Process of the University is the basis of salary appeals at the Department level.

C. Learner Complaint

If a complaint is made by a learner against a departmental faculty member, the Chair will discuss the complaint with the person bringing the complaint and the faculty person against whom the complaint is lodged. If the Chair believes the complaint has no merit, an explanation will be provided both to the learner and to the faculty member. If the Chair determines that the complaint has merit, he/she will work with the faculty member to resolve the related issue(s).

In all cases of alleged complaints, a report of the complaint, the finding, and resolution, if relevant, will be prepared and placed in the faculty member’s personnel file. A copy will be given to the faculty member. If the complaint is found to have no merit, this record protects the faculty member. If the complaint has merit and resolution is necessary, this record may be relevant to future complaints or to determine whether a pattern of any consequence exists.

D. Staff Grievances

Staff may present grievances about working conditions, treatment by others, or other problems that, if true, would warrant remedial action. The Chair, or designee if the complaint involves the Chair, will investigate the situation to determine the validity of the grievance and follow up as appropriate. As necessary, the Office of Consulting Services will be consulted for advice in addressing a staff member grievance.

E. Grievance Alleging Discrimination

Grievances alleging discrimination will be made to the Chair. The Chair will consult the Office of Consulting Services for proper handling of the complaint or grievance.

F. Allegations of Misconduct

Misconduct includes violations of University rules and policies, violation of laws, and behavior that any reasonable person would judge to be unacceptable whether articulated or not in a specific policy or law. Allegations of misconduct will be referred to the appropriate University office, for example, criminal behavior to University Police, medical student academic misconduct to the Student Council of the College, staff misconduct to the Office of Counseling Services, faculty misconduct handled per Faculty Rule 3335-5-04, and allegations of sexual harassment handled per the OSU Policy and Procedures on Sexual Harassment.
