CURRENT

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATIVE GRADUATE DEGREE AGREEMENT (ICGDA)

International Combined Bachelor's/Master's Degree

between

Shandong University, Weihai, P.R. China

The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, U.S.A.

This document describes an international graduate cooperative degree agreement (ICGDA) designed to deepen the research and academic relationship as part of the growing partnership between The Ohio State University (Ohio State) on behalf of its Department of Human Sciences, College of Education and Human Ecology and Shandong University, Weihai, P.R. China (Shandong University). The goal of this cooperative degree agreement is to provide a framework for exceptional undergraduate students enrolled in Shandong University to seek a global educational and professional experience at Ohio State while enrolled as a provisional graduate student.

The agreement will enable Shandong University students an opportunity to pursue, simultaneously, two degrees in two different universities, specifically a 4-yr undergraduate degree at the Shandong University and a graduate Master's degree at Ohio State, and reduce the typical time required to complete both sets of degree requirements. Under this agreement, eligible Shandong University students pursuing an undergraduate degree from Shandong University may complete their undergraduate course requirements at Ohio State with the intent of continuing studies to obtain a Master's degree at Ohio State in an abbreviated period, similar to the Combined undergraduate/graduate Master's degree for Ohio State students. (Section 8.1 of the Graduate School Handbook)

THE AGREEMENT

1. Period of Agreement.

- (1) This Agreement becomes effective for 5 years on the date of the last signature. This overarching agreement among institutions, once executed, will grant Shandong University the access to design specific and potentially multiple Combined Bachelor's/Master's programs with Ohio State graduate programs. These specific programs will be reviewed and approved in the standard process of The Graduate School and The Office of Academic Affairs in 5-year terms as described in 2.
- (2) Upon written consent by both parties, the agreement may be extended for another period of 5 years. The Department of Human Sciences in the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State will provide a written report to the Graduate School of Ohio State documenting student success in the program for approval prior to renewing another term. Specifically, this report should provide student participation (numbers) and academic metrics of success; including, but not limited to, maintaining good standing in the Graduate School, degree completion (%), number of returning students after the Bachelor's degree, and time to degrees.

2. Program Overview.

- (1) For Shandong University to initiate a new International Bachelor's/Master's Program with a College and Department at Ohio State, this ICGDA must be signed and in effect. Upon approval of the ICGDA by the Graduate School and the Chief Financial Officer at Ohio State, a signed copy of the ICGDA will be provided to the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State and Shandong University.
- (2) Upon approval of the ICGDA, a program proposal for the international Combined degree program must be submitted by the academic units at OSU and the Partnering Institution for review by the Graduate School (Dean or Associate Dean). The program proposal must be approved as per the curricular review process for any Ohio State graduate program in accordance with the Graduate School's current Program Approval Guidance Document. A copy of the ICGDA is a required component of the program proposal submission.
- (3) Once the program proposal is approved, each year, Shandong University may send up to the agreed upon number of qualified undergraduate students who are at the beginning of the fourth and final year of undergraduate study to Ohio State for up to 3 consecutive semester(s) to complete the Bachelor's degree. Shandong University students are provisionally admitted to the Ohio State Graduate School in the specified degree program.
- (4) At the end of the up to 3 consecutive semesters at Ohio State, Shandong University students will complete their undergraduate degree from Shandong University. It is understood that this may require the student to return to Shandong University to complete the Bachelor's degree. Given that students provide to Ohio State a transcript showing completion of the baccalaureate degree and that students meet all other enrollment conditions, Shandong University students will continue studies as a graduate student for two semesters in the Consumer Science program within the Department of Human Sciences in the College of Education and Human Ecology to complete the master's degree at Ohio State.

3. Enrollment Conditions.

- (1) Students from Shandong University with an active ICGDA with Ohio State will be allowed to enroll in the Combined Bachelors/Master's program.
- (2) Shandong University students who are accepted by the Ohio State program can participate and are provisionally admitted to the Ohio State Combined Bachelors/Master's program.
- (3) Shandong University students are to study at Ohio State for the fourth and final year of their Bachelor's degree program (or selected semester during this year) to complete the coursework with credit hours equivalent to the requirement of the same period at Shandong University. Enrolled courses at Ohio State must be available for graduate credit in order for the hours to count toward a graduate degree. Upon completion of coursework during this period at Ohio State, students are to earn their bachelor's degree from Shandong University. Criteria for the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program include but are not limited to the following:

- Students must have completed a minimum of 3 years of baccalaureate level course work.
- b. Students must earn a minimum of 3.5 cumulative grade-point average or its equivalent (evaluation by Ohio State Graduate and Professional Admissions) in all previous undergraduate work (including credit hours from all undergraduate institutions previously attended).
- c. International students may not be admitted to the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program in conditional or graduate non-degree status.
- (4) The Graduate Program in the Department of Human Sciences within the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State under this ICGDA, must additionally evaluate students based on their academic record, including their GPA and recommendation letters. The academic record must meet the requirements for the combined undergraduate/graduate program at Ohio State as described in the Graduate School Handbook Section 8.1.
- (5) The students from Shandong University will also need to meet the TOEFL English language requirements set by the OSU Graduate School (currently IBT 79 total), which includes a minimum score of 550 on the old or a minimum score of 19 on each section of the new paper-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), 79 on the internet-based TOEFL, or 7.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS).
- (6) In order to continue studies at Ohio State as a graduate student, Shandong University students must meet the current published Graduate School criteria of Ohio State for enrollment as per the current Graduate School Handbook.
  - a. Students must provide to the Ohio State Graduate and Professional Admissions Office an official transcript showing a baccalaureate degree earned, or its equivalent, before continuing into the second year of the international graduate degree program. Provisional admission status will be removed once the bachelor's degree is verified.
  - b. Students who have completed the 4-year degree requirements for Shandong University in the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program will be subject to the academic and professional standards of the Graduate School of Ohio State and meet the course and academic requirements of the Ohio State graduate program in which the graduate degree of Ohio State will be conferred.
  - c. As with all degrees, the student's transcripts will be monitored by the Graduate School of Ohio State and any problems identified communicated among the parties, up to and including dismissal of the student from the degree program as for any domestic student in a Combined Bachelor's/Master's degree program.
- (7) Students continuing to study at Ohio State during the final academic year (i.e. fifth academic year) as a graduate student are to receive a Master's Degree from Ohio State upon completing all degree requirements, as outlined in the Graduate School Handbook and in guidelines specific to the graduate program. A course plan for each student must have been approved by the graduate program based on the curriculum as approved by Ohio State.

4. Responsibilities of Parties.

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATIVE GRADUATE DEGREE AGREEMENT (ICGDA)

International Combined Bachelor's/Master's Degree between

Shandong University, P.R. China

and

The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, U.S.A.

This document describes an international graduate cooperative degree agreement (ICGDA) designed to deepen the research and academic relationship as part of the growing partnership between The Ohio State University (Ohio State) on behalf of its Department of Human Sciences, College of Education and Human Ecology and Shandong University, P.R. China (Shandong University). The goal of this cooperative degree agreement is to provide a framework for exceptional undergraduate students enrolled in Shandong University to seek a global educational and professional experience at Ohio State while enrolled as a provisional graduate student.

The agreement will enable Shandong University students an opportunity to pursue, simultaneously, two degrees in two different universities, specifically a 4-yr undergraduate degree at the Shandong University and a graduate Master's degree at Ohio State, and reduce the typical time required to complete both sets of degree requirements. Under this agreement, eligible Shandong University students pursuing an undergraduate degree from Shandong University may complete their undergraduate course requirements at Ohio State with the intent of continuing studies to obtain a Master's degree at Ohio State in an abbreviated period, similar to the Combined undergraduate/graduate Master's degree for Ohio State students. (Section 8.1 of the Graduate School Handbook)

This renewal agreement expands and replaces the original agreement signed in 2020. In addition to extending the cooperation for another five years, this renewal adds Shandong's campuses in Qingdao and Jinan and allows these students to participate.

1. Period of Agreement.

(1) This Agreement becomes effective for 5 years on the date of the last signature. This overarching agreement among institutions, once executed, will grant Shandong University the access to design specific and potentially multiple Combined Bachelor's/Master's programs with Ohio State graduate programs. These specific programs will be reviewed and approved in the standard process of The Graduate School and The Office of Academic Affairs in 5-year terms as described in 2.

(2) Upon written consent by both parties, the agreement may be extended for another period of 5 years. The Department of Human Sciences in the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State will provide a written report to the Graduate School of Ohio State documenting student success in the program for approval prior to renewing another term. Specifically, this report should provide student participation (numbers) and academic metrics of success; including, but not limited to, maintaining good standing in the Graduate School, degree completion (%), number of returning students after the Bachelor's degree, and time to degrees.

2. Program Overview.

- (1) For Shandong University to initiate a new International Bachelor's/Master's Program with a College and Department at Ohio State, this ICGDA must be signed and in effect. Upon approval of the ICGDA by the Graduate School and the Chief Financial Officer at Ohio State, a signed copy of the ICGDA will be provided to the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State and Shandong University.
- (2) Upon approval of the ICGDA, a program proposal for the international Combined degree program must be submitted by the academic units at OSU and the Partnering Institution for review by the Graduate School (Dean or Associate Dean). The program proposal must be approved as per the curricular review process for any Ohio State graduate program in accordance with the Graduate School's current Program Approval Guidance Document. A copy of the ICGDA is a required component of the program proposal submission.
- (3) Once the program proposal is approved, each year, Shandong University may send up to the agreed upon number of qualified undergraduate students who are at the beginning of the fourth and final year of undergraduate study to Ohio State for up to 3 consecutive semester(s) to complete the Bachelor's degree. Shandong University students are provisionally admitted to the Ohio State Graduate School in the specified degree program.
- (4) At the end of the up to 3 consecutive semesters at Ohio State, Shandong University students will complete their undergraduate degree from Shandong University. It is understood that this may require the student to return to Shandong University to complete the Bachelor's degree. Given 19 that students provide to Ohio State a transcript showing completion of the baccalaureate degree and that students meet all other enrollment conditions, Shandong University students will continue studies as a graduate student for two semesters in the Consumer Science program within the Department of Human Sciences in the College of Education and Human Ecology to complete the master's degree at Ohio State.

3. Enrollment Conditions.

- (1) Students from Shandong University with an active ICGDA with Ohio State will be allowed to enroll in the Combined Bachelors/Master's program.
- (2) Shandong University students who are accepted by the Ohio State program can participate and are provisionally admitted to the Ohio State Combined Bachelors/Master's program.
- (3) Shandong University students are to study at Ohio State for the fourth and final year of their Bachelor's degree program (or selected semester during this year) to complete the coursework with credit hours equivalent to the requirement of the same period at Shandong University. Enrolled courses at Ohio State must be available for graduate credit in order for the hours to count toward a graduate degree. Upon completion of coursework during this period at Ohio State, students are to earn their bachelor's degree from Shandong University. Criteria for the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program include but are not limited to the following:
  - a. Students must have completed a minimum of 3 years of baccalaureate level course work.
  - b. Students must earn a minimum of 3.5 cumulative grade-point average or its equivalent (evaluation by Ohio State Graduate and Professional Admissions) in all previous undergraduate work (including credit hours from all undergraduate institutions previously attended).
  - c. International students may not be admitted to the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program in conditional or graduate non-degree status.
- (4) The Graduate Program in the Department of Human Sciences within the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State under this ICGDA, must additionally evaluate students based on their academic record, including their GPA and recommendation letters. The academic record must meet the requirements for the combined undergraduate/graduate program at Ohio State as described in the Graduate School Handbook Section 8.1.
- (5) The students from Shandong University will also need to meet the TOEFL English language requirements set by the OSU Graduate School, which includes a minimum score of 550 on the old or a minimum score of 19 on each section of the new paper-based Test of English as a Foreign

- Language (TOEFL), 79 on the internet-based TOEFL, 7.0 on the International English Language 20 Testing System (IELTS), or 120 or higher on Duolingo. Current English language requirements can be found online here: https://gpadmissions.osu.edu/intl/additional-requirements-to-apply.html.
- (6) In order to continue studies at Ohio State as a graduate student, Shandong University students must meet the current published Graduate School criteria of Ohio State for enrollment as per the current Graduate School Handbook.
  - a. Students must provide to the Ohio State Graduate and Professional Admissions Office an official transcript showing a baccalaureate degree earned, or its equivalent, before continuing into the second year of the international graduate degree program. Provisional admission status will be removed once the bachelor's degree is verified.
  - b. Students who have completed the 4-year degree requirements for Shandong University in the Combined Bachelor's/Master's program will be subject to the academic and professional standards of the Graduate School of Ohio State and meet the course and academic requirements of the Ohio State graduate program in which the graduate degree of Ohio State will be conferred.
  - c. As with all degrees, the student's transcripts will be monitored by the Graduate School of Ohio State and any problems identified communicated among the parties, up to and including dismissal of the student from the degree program as for any domestic student in a Combined Bachelor's/Master's degree program.
- (7) Students continuing to study at Ohio State during the final academic year (i.e. fifth academic year) as a graduate student are to receive a Master's Degree from Ohio State upon completing all degree requirements, as outlined in the Graduate School Handbook and in guidelines specific to the graduate program. A course plan for each student must have been approved by the graduate program based on the curriculum as approved by Ohio State.

Please note that you will find two documents outlining the "current" curricular agreement between both institutions. For a clearer overview, please refer to the reformatted "current" curriculum on pages 31/32. This version aligns with our updated program sheet structure for easier understanding.

Although the total credit hours in the core only differ by 3 (20 to 23), we are calculating a 19-credit hour change to the core according to university guidelines since we have added new courses, removed some courses, and changed the status of certain courses from required to elective or vice versa.

Changes in Research Methods and Statistics Requirement: 0 credit hours

While courses have been added or removed from the Research Methods and Statistics requirement, the minimum credit hour requirement remains the same at 3 credit hours. Students choose from a list of available course options to fulfill this requirement.

Major and Supporting Course Electives: O credit hours

While courses have been added or removed from the Major and Supporting Courses Elective requirements, the minimum credit hour requirement remains the same at 27 credit hours. Students choose from a list of available course options to fulfill this requirement.

Rationale for Changes:

Changes to the core, research, and major supporting course electives requirements come from recent revisions to the CONSCI-MS program which clarified the distinctions between the Hospitality Management and Fashion and Retail Studies specializations. Subsequently, this led to changes in credit hours and adjustments to the courses offered. The revised curriculum better serves the outcomes that employers are expecting of our graduates. As we renew our agreement with Shandong University, it is logical to align this agreement with the updated CONSCI-MS, HMT curriculum as closely as possible. The two programs are not aligned entirely, as students are finishing their Bachelor's degree while simultaneously starting/completing a Master's degree at OSU, and therefore, the 2000-level and 3000-level courses remain in the 3+2 program. Additionally, courses removed from the curriculum are no longer offered yet do not impact the percent of change in degree requirements since students can choose from a list of course options.

Transition Plan: No transition plan is required. Currently, there are zero students enrolled in the CONSCI-MS, HMT degree from Shandong University in pursuit of the 3+2 program.

Dear Mark,

Good morning!

I am reaching out to confirm that you received the marked-up draft of the Shandong University Agreement earlier last week. Also, is there an estimated timeline that I can give to update Dr. Kandampully on this?

Thanks so much!

Have someone mark up the document with changes tracked and we'll take a look. My guess is that the language listed below would be OK. I suspect they are trying to protect themselves and their students in the event continuation of the activities becomes illegal under Ohio law at some point in the future or under federal law (or maybe under Chinese law) with a change of administrations.

Hello Everyone,

Thank you for all your help on this! Attached is the ICGDA agreement that was shared with Dr. Jay Kandampully and which he then shared with his colleagues at Shandong University. My understanding is that they have an addition they would like to make to the document, and I am trying to help Dr. Kandampully determine if this is possible and what needs to be done.

Please let me know if I can answer any additional questions on this. I am happy to arrange a meeting if needed as well to discuss this.

Thanks so much!

Best, Lisa

Subject: FW: Shandong Agreement for Partner Review

Dear Mary and Elizabeth,

Earlier this week I received a phone call from Jay Kandampully regarding the 3+2 International Dual Agreement with Shandong University. In February Maria sent him a copy of the agreement that had been reviewed by OSUs legal team to send to Shandong for their own review. They've come back with a request to add in some language (in the email that Jay shared with me below), and Jay is wondering what the process would be to add this into the agreement and what the next steps are.

I am not certain how to advise him on this and am hoping you both might be able to offer some feedback and guidance on what needs to happen. I am assuming that to add in their requested clause we would need to pass the agreement back to OSU legal for added review/approval. Do you know who I would reach out to for that?

Any help you can give me on this would be greatly appreciated!

Best, Lisa

Dear Jay,

Sorry for late reply. I just came back from a business trip in Australia. I was also thinking of writing to you today to share the feedback from our Legal Affairs Office. They asked to add the following article in the agreement. I don't know whether this is possible.

The articles of this Agreement shall be performed in compliance with laws and regulations and relevant policies. After this Agreement comes into effect, if this Agreement cannot be continued due to changes in laws and regulations or adjustments of higher authorities and government policies, each party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement, and the other party undertakes not to claim any breach of contract liability from the terminating party.

Looking forward to your reply.

Best,

Hi Jay,

It was great to talk with you over the phone earlier. I've had a look through the document you've sent me, and I have a follow up question. Did Shandong University send you any specific language or statements that they wanted inserted into the document to cover their concern about if something happens and related responsibilities? Did they indicate there was a specific scenario they wanted addressed in this?

If they did, would you mind sending that to me as well please, that will help give Dean Stromberger added context on this as we look at what to do here.

Thanks so much!

Best, Lisa

Subject: Letter of Support Request: ESQREM/ESQUAL

Good evening, Bryan!

I hope you're doing well. I'm not sure if you remember me, but I previously worked as an EHE Academic Advisor in the Education cluster for several years. I've since moved into a role in the Department of Human Sciences, where I coordinate both Undergraduate and Graduate curriculum. This change brings me to reach out to you this evening with a curricular request.

The Department of Human Sciences is looking to renew the 3+2 agreement for the MS in Consumer Sciences between OSU and Shandong University, specifically in Hospitality Management. The updated agreement will require students to select 3 credit hours from the Research Methods and Statistics category, drawn from a list of available courses. We would appreciate your support in permitting us to add the following course options for our students:

ESQREM 7648: GLM I: Introduction to Regression and ANOVA (4cr) ESQREM 7658: GLM II: Advanced Regression and ANOVA (4cr)

ESQREM 8648: Multivariate Analysis (3cr)

ESQREM 8659: Structural Equation Modeling (3cr)

ESQUAL 8285: Qualitative Data Analysis Methods and Applications (3cr)

The proposed curriculum is attached for your reference. Please respond with questions or concerns and, if you're willing, an approval email to suffice as a "letter of support." I appreciate your consideration.

Congratulations on your appointment as the Ed. Studies Department Chair. I have no doubt you will do great; they are lucky to have you in their corner as you were always in ours. I look forward to hearing from you soon!

Best, Tackett

LETTER OF SUPPORT PSYCHOLOGY

Subject: RE: Letter of Support Request: Psych 6811/6822

Hi Kim.

I have checked with our quantitative faculty, and it does not seem like a problem to add those courses as possible options. I don't know how much they will actually expand student options, as they each have pre-requisites (either the 6810 class or 6811). But it would be fine to include them as options as far as we are concerned.

Best wishes,

Duane

Good afternoon, Duane,

I hope this email finds you well and that you had a lovely weekend! I understand this is a particularly busy time of year, but I wanted to follow up on my previous request. Just a quick reminder: university policy allows a ten-business-day window for support and concurrence; otherwise, it's assumed.

I appreciate your attention to this and look forward to hearing from you soon!

Best regards, Tackett

Hi Kimberly,

We support the proposed change to include STAT 5302 as a course option for the Research Methods and Statistics requirement in your curriculum. We just want to make sure that students are aware STAT 5301 (or equivalent) is a prerequisite for STAT 5302.

Thank you.

Hi Kimberly.

Thanks for the note.

Time has moved on, and we've had some changes here in Statistics. I've finished up my time as chair and am now back to a regular faculty position. Our new chair is Elly Kaizar (copied on this email). Peter Craigmile has moved on from Ohio State to another school. The current head of our curricular efforts is Yoon Lee (also copied on this email). I will leave this issue to them.

My best, Steve
