I. INTRODUCTION

This document provides a brief description of the Department of Surgery of the College of Medicine (COM) as well as a description of its policies and procedures. It supplements the Rules of the University Faculty and other policies and procedures of the University and the College of Medicine to which the department and its faculty are subject. The latter rules, policies and procedures, and changes in them, take precedence over statements in this document.

This Pattern of Administration must be reviewed and either revised or reaffirmed on appointment or reappointment of the department chair. In keeping with Faculty Rule 3335-3-35\(C\)\(2\), within the first year of their appointment or reappointment, the department chair shall review the Pattern of Administration in consultation with the faculty. Revisions shall be made with broad faculty input, gathered in accordance with the department's established practices and procedures. This process includes notifying faculty of the upcoming revision and soliciting input on suggested changes. The Chair, in consultation with the Vice Chairs, will then review the document and propose revisions while considering initial faculty input. The proposed changes will be presented to the faculty for review and a vote, with an opportunity for additional suggestions. Revisions may also be initiated by the department chair or recommended by departmental committees or faculty members. The revision process follows the same procedure. All revisions, along with periodic reaffirmation, require approval from the College Office of Faculty Affairs and the Office of Academic Affairs.

II. DEPARTMENT MISSION

The Department of Surgery of The Ohio State University is dedicated to the achievement of excellence in education, research and clinical care in all of the various disciplines encompassed by the specialty.

The Department of Surgery is a participant in the education of medical students at all levels of the medical curriculum. It also educates medical school graduates in a General Surgery residency program, and in other residency and fellowship programs associated with the specialty. Graduates of these programs become eligible for certification by specialty boards and similar agencies. The Department instructs graduate students in the College of Medicine's masters and PhD level program and in other related disciplines. In addition, the department trains postdoctoral fellows in both basic and clinical science categories. The Department also conducts a variety of teaching programs for practicing physicians. From time-to-time members of the Department may also participate in educational projects for the general public.

The Department members, including both those with medical and non-medical doctoral degrees, conduct basic, translational and clinical research. Laboratories associated with the Department are active in the instruction of pre-medical students, medical students, residents, clinical fellows, postdoctoral fellows and graduate students in research methodology and technique. Departmental research is supported by both internal and external funding. Department members are engaged in collaborative projects with researchers in other departments of the University and outside of the University. The results of these various efforts are presented at various scientific meetings and symposia, and they are published in books, journals and other media.

Physician members of the Department are active practitioners of surgery and its associated specialties. Members of the Department who are non-physician practitioners engage in practice related to their area of expertise. These faculty members are organized into divisions based upon surgical specialties and fellowship programs; these divisions are responsible for providing care to patients whose medical problems are encompassed by the specialty or sub-specialty. The Department strives to maintain a clinical staff with the capability of providing a broad spectrum of surgical and related services, with special expertise in the management of complex and unusual problems in addition to those considered more common.

Department members also participate in the administration and governance of the OSU Wexner Medical Center and Nationwide Children's Hospital, the College of Medicine and the University through service as members and officers of various committees. In addition, faculty members serve local, regional and national medical organizations in a variety of administrative positions. Faculty members may also serve as members and officers of other charitable and service organizations on a local, regional and national level.

The Department performs reassessments of the effectiveness of its efforts in teaching, research and service. A comprehensive evaluation is performed and published as the Department of Surgery Annual Report.

A critical component of the Department mission is the dedication to continuous improvement in the quality of its contributions to the discipline and practice of surgery and its various specialties, and to the provision of personalized health care for all of its patients.

III. ACADEMIC RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

In April 2006, the university issued a reaffirmation of academic rights, responsibilities, and processes for addressing concerns.

IV. FACULTY AND VOTING RIGHTS

Faculty Rule 3335-5-19 defines the types of faculty appointments possible at The Ohio State University and the rights and restrictions associated with each type of appointment. Faculty members in the Department of Surgery include those assigned to tenure track, and non-tenure track faculty made up of the following categories: clinical faculty and research faculty with compensated FTEs of at least 50% in the department, and associated faculty, plus those who have been granted emeritus faculty status. Associated faculty could be clinical practice faculty, visiting faculty, or adjunct faculty.

The Department of Surgery makes tenure-track appointments with titles of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. Tenure-track faculty may vote in all matters of departmental governance.

The Department of Surgery makes clinical appointments. Clinical faculty titles are clinical instructor; assistant clinical professor, associate clinical professor, and clinical professor. Clinical faculty are appointed for terms of three to five years and may be reappointed to successive terms. Clinical faculty may vote in all matters of the department governance except tenure-track promotion and tenure decisions and research reappointment and promotion decisions. Clinical faculty may participate in discussions of clinical faculty matters including promotion reviews. Any clinical faculty member appointed by the department may stand for election to serve as a representative in the University Senate subject to representation restrictions noted in Faculty Rule 3335-7-11\(C\)\(2\).

The Department of Surgery makes research appointments. Research faculty titles are research assistant professor, research associate professor, and research professor. Research faculty members are not eligible for tenure. Research faculty are appointed for terms of one to five years, and may be reappointed to successive terms. Research faculty may vote on all matters in the department except tenure-track promotion and tenure decisions and clinical faculty reappointment and promotion decisions. Research faculty may participate in discussions of research faculty matters including promotion reviews.

The Department of Surgery makes associated faculty appointments. Associated faculty titles include tenure-track faculty on less than a 50% appointment, adjunct titles, clinical practice titles, lecturer titles, and visiting titles. Associated faculty may not participate in the appointment, promotion and tenure reviews of tenure-track faculty, or in the appointment, reappointment, or promotion reviews of clinical or research faculty. Visiting faculty may be invited to participate in discussions on non-personnel matters, but may not participate in personnel matters, including appointment, promotion and tenure reviews, and may not vote on any matter.

Emeritus faculty in this department are invited to participate in discussions on nonpersonnel matters, but may not participate in personnel matters, including appointment, promotion and tenure reviews, and may not vote on any matter.

Detailed information about the appointment criteria and procedures for the various types of faculty appointments made in this department is provided in the Appointments, Promotion and Tenure Document.

A. Clinical Faculty Appointment Cap

The Department of Surgery has no cap on clinical faculty.

B. Research Faculty Appointment Cap

This department's number of research faculty will be no more than 20% of the number of tenure-track faculty, with research faculty positions always constituting a minority with respect to the number of tenure-track faculty in the unit. A majority vote of the department's tenure-track faculty is required to alter this appointment cap.

V. ORGANIZATION OF DEPARTMENT SERVICES AND STAFF

The Department of Surgery is organized into nine divisions which represent the various specialties within the discipline of Surgery. Each division constitutes an academic sub-unit, responsible for teaching, research, and patient care related to the specific discipline. In addition, the division as a whole and the members of the division as individuals are responsible for contributing to the overall mission of the Department.

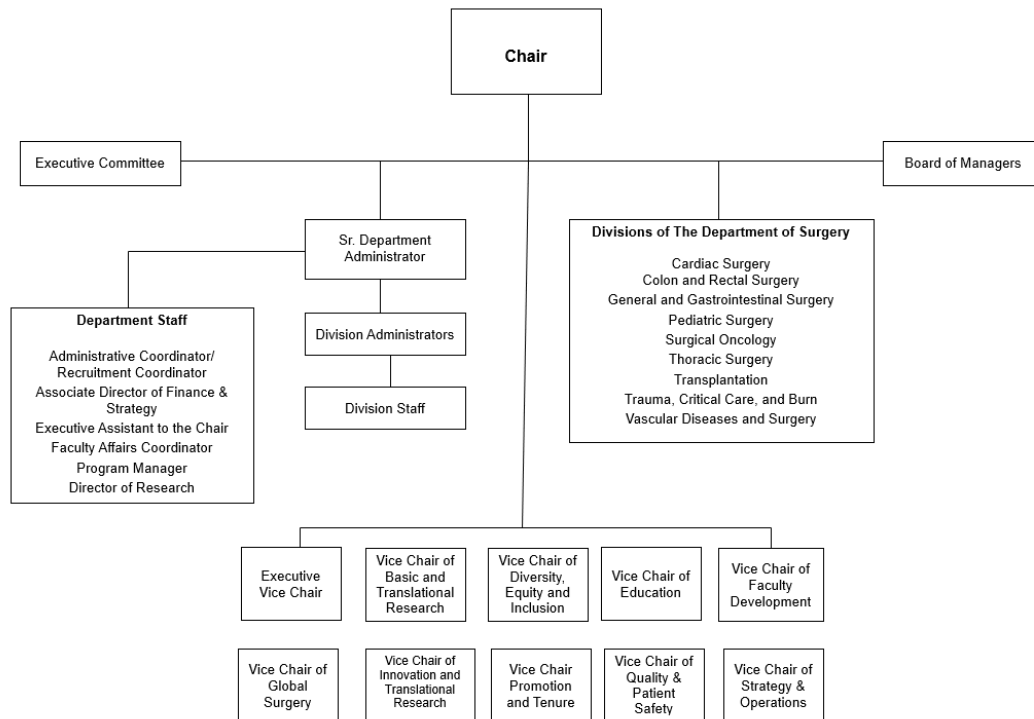

The Department functions as an academic unit through the policies and procedures outlined in this document. OSU Surgery, LLC, is an incorporated entity which constitutes the "Central Practice Group" of the Department of Surgery as mandated by the Practice Plan of the University. The single member of OSU Surgery, LLC is OSU Physicians, Inc. (OSUP). OSUP is the Faculty Group Practice and in which all clinically practicing faculty have an appointment. Reference Appendix for details.

OSU Surgery, LLC structurally complements the academic enterprise of the Department and has a Board of Managers which includes each of the Division Chiefs, the Chair, plus three at-large members. The Board meets on a monthly basis.

OSU Surgery, LLC, in addition to its responsibility for the clinical activities of the Department, serves as a major source of income for activities of the Department of Surgery. Therefore, a direct and constant relationship between the Department and OSU Surgery, LLC is essential for the successful functioning of either entity.

Throughout this document, where appropriate, the interrelations between these two entities as related to specific functions will be noted.

The Administrative structure of the Department is outlined in the structural diagram below:

VI. OVERVIEW OF DEPARTMENT DECISION MAKING

Policy and program decisions are made in a number of ways: by the department faculty as a whole, by standing or special committees of the department, or by the chair. The nature and importance of any individual matter determine how it is addressed. Department governance proceeds on the general principle that the more important the matter to be decided, the more inclusive participation in decision-making needs to be. Open discussions, both formal and informal, constitute the primary means of reaching decisions of central importance.

VII. DEPARTMENT ADMINISTRATION

A. Department Chair

The primary responsibilities of the chair are set forth in Faculty Rule 3335-3-35. This rule requires the chair to develop, in consultation with the faculty, a Pattern of Administration with specified minimum content. The rule, along with Faculty Rule 3335-6, also requires the chair to prepare, in consultation with the faculty, a document setting forth policies and procedures pertinent to appointments, reappointments, promotion, and tenure. Other responsibilities of the chair, not specifically noted elsewhere in this Pattern of Administration, are paraphrased and summarized below.

To uphold expectations of the Leadership Philosophy:

- Uphold Ohio State's Shared Values and engender trust through words and actions.
 - Care for people and create conditions for well-being and productivity.
 - Set clear direction and goals for their teams and align to the mission of the department.
 - Solve problems and support their teams to adapt to changing contexts.
 - Drive cross-functional collaborations to advance the goals of the department.
 - Demonstrate commitment to continuous growth for themselves and their teams.
- To have general administrative responsibility for department programs, subject to the approval of the dean of the college, and to conduct the business of the department efficiently. This broad responsibility includes the acquisition and management of funds and the hiring and supervision of faculty and staff.
 - To plan with the members of the faculty and the dean of the college a progressive program; to encourage research and educational investigations.
 - To assign workload according to the department's workload guidelines (see Section IX) and faculty appointment type (and rank).
 - To evaluate and improve instructional and administrative processes on an ongoing basis; to promote improvement of instruction by providing for the evaluation of each course when offered, including written evaluation by students of the course and instructors, and periodic course review by the faculty
 - To evaluate faculty members annually in accordance with both university and department established criteria; to inform faculty members when they receive their annual review of their right to review their primary personnel file maintained by their department and to place in that file a response to any evaluation, comment, or other material contained in the file.
 - After consultation with the eligible faculty, to recommend appointments, promotions, dismissals, and matters affecting the tenure of members of the department faculty to the dean of the college, in accordance with procedures set forth in Faculty Rules 3335-6 and 3335-7 and this department's Appointments, Promotion and Tenure document.
 - To see that all faculty members, regardless of their assigned location, are offered the departmental privileges and responsibilities appropriate to their rank; and in general to lead in maintaining a high level of morale.
 - To maintain a curriculum vitae for all personnel teaching a course in the department's curriculum.
 - To see that adequate supervision and training are given to those members of the faculty and staff who may profit from such assistance.
 - To prepare, after consultation with the faculty, annual budget recommendations for the consideration of the dean of the college.
 - To facilitate and participate in prescribed academic program review processes, in collaboration with the dean of the college and the Office of Academic Affairs.

Day-to-day responsibility for specific matters may be delegated to others, but the chair retains final responsibility and authority for all matters covered by this Pattern, subject when relevant to the approval of the dean, Office of Academic Affairs, and Board of Trustees.

Operational efficiency requires that the chair exercise a degree of autonomy in establishing and managing administrative processes. The articulation and achievement of department academic goals, however, is most successful when all faculty members participate in discussing and deciding matters of importance. The chair will therefore consult with the faculty on all educational and academic policy issues and will respect the principle of majority rule. When a departure from majority rule is judged to be necessary, the chair will explain to the faculty the reasons for the departure, ideally before action is taken.

B. Other Administrators

i. Vice Chairs

There shall be nine Vice-Chairs of the Department and one Executive Vice Chair. The nine Vice Chairs are as follows: Vice Chair of Basic and Translational Research, Vice Chair of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, Vice Chair of Education, Vice Chair of Faculty Development, Vice Chair of Global Surgery, Vice Chair of Innovation and Translational Research, Vice Chair of Promotion and Tenure, Vice Chair of Quality & Patient Safety, and Vice Chair of Strategy & Operations. The Executive Vice-Chair supports the activities of the other Vice-Chairs and undertakes such additional responsibilities as may be assigned by the Chair. The Vice-Chairs shall be appointed by the Chair from among the members of the Department and shall serve a renewable term of office of two years. The Vice Chair of Promotion and Tenure and the Vice Chairs of Research must be tenured faculty. In addition, the term of office of each Vice-Chair will automatically expire upon the termination of service of the Chair. In the absence of the Chair, the administrative responsibilities of the Department shall be directed by the Executive Vice-Chair. In the absence of both the Chair and Executive Vice-Chair, the Chair shall designate which of the other Vice-Chairs shall have primary authority in such circumstances.

Periodic review of the Vice-Chairs shall be conducted in accordance with the Departmental Review Process outlined in this document. If the Chair, the Executive Committee, or the Board of Managers by majority vote determine that there are possible grounds for termination of appointment of a Vice Chair prior to completion of their term of office, a review may be conducted and appropriate action, including dismissal, may be taken in accordance with the Departmental Review Process.

ii. Division Chiefs

The Division Chief is responsible for developing a division with balanced missions for education, research and clinical activities that are integrated and supportive of the goals and objectives of the department. The Division Chief is appointed by the Chair of the Department and serves at the pleasure of the Chair. Under the guidance of the Chief, the Division faculty are expected to participate vigorously and regularly in all departmental academic and patient care programs. The responsibilities of the Division Chiefs are broad and diverse and include, but are not limited to the following:

- General administrative responsibility for the division, subject to the approval of the department Chair, and to conduct the business of the division efficiently. This broad responsibility includes the effective and sound administration of divisional finances and supervision of faculty and staff.
- An active participant in faculty development, providing counsel and mentoring and protecting faculty time from excessive administrative or clinical responsibilities.
- Approve and finalize all faculty work assignments and distributions of professional effort. This includes clinical service, teaching assignments, administrative responsibilities, and distribution of scholarly and research efforts. The Division Chief's assignments are final. Faculty members who disagree with these assignments should first discuss with the Division Chief and may then consult with the Vice Chair for Promotion and Tenure who may initiate further mediation at the Divisional or Departmental level.
- Develops a program of state-of-the-art clinical care, ensures reasonably prompt access to the division's in-patient and ambulatory care services, and takes appropriate action to correct any deficiencies.
- Provides leadership and fosters an environment that supports research such that a reasonable number of grants are submitted to local, state, and national funding agencies, seeks a progression in the research program toward a greater percentage of peer-reviewed research.
- Participates in and supports departmental educational programs and initiatives, develops a fellowship training program that meets standards established by the American Board of Surgery Boards
- Is an active leader in departmental activities, including support and attendance at Medical Grand Rounds, Faculty Meetings, Department Leadership Meetings, Appointment, Promotion and Tenure meetings, and other major departmental activities.
- Is active in national organizations related to their specialty, publishes in national journals and books on a regular basis, and encourages division faculty to a high level of scholarly productivity.
- Evaluate faculty members annually in accordance with both University and department established criteria; inform faculty members when they receive their annual review of their right to review their primary personnel file maintained by their department and to place in that file a response to any evaluation, comment, or other material contained in the file.

iii. Non-Faculty Administrative Personnel

Non-faculty administrative personnel shall be appointed by the Department Chair. Such personnel may include, but are not limited to, Department Administrator(s). The Department Administrator shall report directly to the Department Chair. In the absence of the Department Chair, they shall report to the Executive Vice-Chair. Appointments for these positions will be made on a one-year basis, with performance reviewed annually. Renewals will be granted regularly, provided performance remains satisfactory.

Each Division Chief, in collaboration with the Department Administrator, shall appoint a Division Administrator to oversee the administrative duties of the division. The Division Administrator, along with the Division Chief, shall be responsible for reporting these activities to the Department Administrator.

All other administrative personnel within the Department shall report to the Department Administrator(s). Their appointments shall be made by the Chair, based on the recommendation of the Administrator(s).

iv. Departmental Review Process

Formal reviews of the principal administrative officials of the Department (Executive Vice Chair, Vice-Chairs, and Division Chief(s)) shall be done on a yearly basis by the Chair. At the start of the fourth year of the term of office, the Chair will conduct a comprehensive Division Chief review. The Chair may appoint an independent Division Chief review committee. The review will examine the accomplishments of the Division with respect to the objectives set forth in the yearly reviews including clinical accomplishments, teaching activities, and research productivity. Satisfactory performance as determined by the review will qualify the Division Chief for reappointment for an additional term. There will be no limit on the number of reappointments.

If the administrative official is given an unfavorable evaluation and not reappointed and wishes to appeal the recommendation, then a hearing before the Executive Committee shall be conducted in a timely fashion. The recommendation for non-reappointment may be overturned by a two-thirds majority vote of the Executive Committee. For such hearings, a quorum is defined as 50% of the Executive Committee.

C. Committees:

Much of the development and implementation of the department's policies and programs is carried out by standing and ad hoc committees. The department chair is an ex officio member of all department committees and may vote as a member on all committees except the Committee of Eligible Faculty and the Appointments, Promotion and Tenure Committee.

The Chair may establish ad hoc committees as necessary to address specific or confidential issues. Membership and charges for these committees are shared with the faculty unless confidentiality is required (e.g., cases of misconduct). Appointments are made to promote diverse representation across services and disciplines, with the Chair selecting members and appointing committee chairs. These committees typically provide recommendations to the Chair in collaboration with relevant stakeholders.

i. Standing Committees

1. Executive Committee
2. Board of Managers
3. Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure Committee
4. Department of Surgery Surgical Education Committee
5. Clinical Competency Committee
6. Research Committee

Committee Chairs: The chair of each committee is responsible for the regular functions of the committee, including organization and conduct of meetings at intervals specified by the committee charge, and presentation of periodic reports at Department meetings.

ii. Guidelines

1. Appointments

- a. Appointments of the chairs and members of these committees shall be made by the Chair of the Department, in consultation with the Department Executive Committee.
- b. It is recommended that a faculty member serve on no more than three standing committees concurrently (with the exception of the Board of Managers and Executive Committees).
- c. Appointees shall be advised of committee objectives and work plans at the start of each academic year by the Department Chair and/or the Committee Chair.
- d. The Department Chair, in consultation with the Executive Committee, shall review committee appointments at the start of each academic year, and make appropriate changes.
- e. The Vice Chair of Basic and Translational Research, Vice Chair of Innovation and Translational Research, and Vice Chair of Promotion and Tenure must be tenured faculty.

2. Term of Office

- a. The normal term of office for each committee member shall be a minimum of two years beginning on July 1 of the academic year of appointment.
- b. A faculty member shall be eligible for reappointment to the same committee in the interests of continuity, with no limit on the number of terms of appointment.
- c. The normal term of office may be adjusted as necessary to enhance the effectiveness of the committee.

3. Meetings

- a. Each standing committee shall meet upon the call of the committee chair or upon the petition of two members. The frequency of meetings shall be related to the purpose of the committee, but in general not less than biannual.
- b. The quorum will be determined by each committee.

4. Reporting Requirements

- a. A secretary shall be appointed by the chair of each committee and shall be responsible for the preparation of a written report of each meeting (minutes).
- b. This report, after review and approval by the committee chair, shall be forwarded to the Department Chair and the Executive Committee with any recommendations. Reports are required on at least a quarterly basis.
- c. The Department will produce a composite of the committee reports and present this document to the full faculty on a quarterly basis at a faculty meeting with time allotted specifically for review of committee reports.
- d. In addition to the quarterly reports, the committee shall prepare and submit a summary of activities on an annual basis, for inclusion in the Annual Report of the Department.
- e. The committee chair shall maintain records of meeting attendance, and submit these records along with the annual report.

- b. Departmental financial support shall be provided as necessary to achieve the committee objectives, with the approval of the Department Chair.
- c. As part of its annual report the committee should submit a budget if significant expenditures are anticipated during the next academic year.

6. Overlapping Functions

- a. Two committees serve dual functions, one function within the College of Medicine, and the second under the auspices of OSU Physicians. The Fiscal Committee also serves as the College of Medicine Practice Plan Committee. The Executive Committee serves as the managing body for the Department within the College of Medicine, and the Board of Managers of OSU Surgery, LLC under the auspices of OSU Physicians/Faculty Group Practice.

- iii. Charges to Standing Committees: Each committee, with the concurrence of the Department Chair, shall establish operating policies and procedures in accordance with the rules of the Department of Surgery, the College of Medicine, and the University.

1. Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is comprised of the Department Chair and the nine Vice Chairs, with appropriate Department staff in attendance. The Committee oversees all activities of the Department; formulates and recommends Departmental policies; communicates important College and University actions to the faculty members; and serves as an advisory body to the Chair. Regular and special meetings of the Executive Committee shall be scheduled at the discretion of the Chair.

The Executive Committee shall meet as a group on a monthly basis and shall act as an advisory committee (in concert with the Chairperson) on all issues and policies. Matters may be brought before the meeting of the Executive Committee through initiation by the Chair or a Division Chief, or by petition from an individual faculty member. The Division Chief is responsible for representing the viewpoint of the members of the division; therefore, the Chief not only has the responsibility for reporting actions of the Department to the division members, but also serves as the "advocate" for individual members of the division and for the division as a whole. Special meetings may be called by the Chair with electronic or written notification.

2. Board of Managers

The Board of Managers is comprised of the Division Directors, the Department Chair, and 4 at-large members consisting of 2 vice chairs and 2 faculty members. At large members will be elected for an initial 2-year term and can be renewed for one additional term. This board serves as the financial governing council, assisting the Chairperson in directing the activities of the department. Non-voting members may be invited at the chair and board's discretion.

3. Appointments, Promotion and Tenure Committee

The Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure (APT) Committee consists of ten diverse associate professors and professors from the clinical, research, and tenure track faculty representing OSU/NCH. Members are appointed by the Vice Chair for Promotion and Tenure with approval from the Department Chair, who also appoints the Vice Chair. The APT Committee supports the Department Chair in administrative functions and assists the Eligible Faculty Committee in matters related to faculty appointments, evaluations, promotions, and tenure.

The Committee plays a supportive role for the Department Chair in various administrative functions and aids the Eligible Faculty Committee in addressing matters related to faculty appointments, evaluations, promotions, and tenure. It is important to note that the APT Committee does not engage in voting on the qualifications of candidates for promotion and tenure. Instead, it provides the aforementioned services and subsequently presents a comprehensive case, including both advantages and disadvantages, for each faculty candidate to the Eligible Faculty Committee, whose roles and responsibilities are outlined in the Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure Document. The final decision made by the Eligible Faculty is then communicated to the Department.

4. Surgical Education Committee

The committee is chaired by the Vice Chair of Education and includes permanent members such as residency program directors, fellowship program directors, leaders in medical student education, and core education faculty appointed by the Chair. The committee oversees the department's general education initiatives. There is no fixed number of members or term length for this committee.

5. Clinical Competency Committee (CCC)

In compliance with Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) requirements, this committee meets twice annually to evaluate the progress of all residents and fellows within the Department of Surgery. The Clinical Competency Committee (CCC) is led by the Program Director (PD) or Associate Program Director (APD) of the training program. The PD and APD are appointed by the Department Chair with approval from the Institutional Graduate Medical Education Committee. Each training program holds its own CCC meetings, with faculty membership determined by the program's size and specific needs. These committees perform semi-annual reviews of resident/fellow evaluations, ensure timely submission of required evaluations to the ACGME, and provide recommendations to program directors on resident progression, including promotion, remediation, and dismissal. Membership requirements and terms of service for the committee are governed by the ACGME and vary by program.

6. Research Committee

The Research Committee is comprised of vice-chairs of research and the director for research operations as well as ad hoc faculty members as needed. The Committee is co-chaired by the Vice-Chairs of Research. Committee members and co-chairs are appointed by the Chair. The Committee reviews, formulates, and recommends policies and research programs within the Department; enhances research support and bench-to-bedside translational research; promotes external research relationships and exposure; fosters and improves funding and commercialization outcomes; develops and supports faculty and staff talent and culture; establishes and monitors benchmarking criteria and drives initiatives towards Departmental improvements in research outcomes.

VIII. FACULTY MEETINGS

The department chair will provide the faculty with a schedule of department faculty meetings at the beginning of each academic year. Department of Surgery Faculty Meetings will be held monthly, directed by the Department Chair, to present and discuss pertinent issues as they relate to the Department. Each meeting shall include adequate time for discussion of matters of importance initiated not only by leaders of the Department but also by the individual members as well. The Department Chair may call meetings as needed with electronic or written notification. The agenda is established by the Department Chair. Any faculty member may submit items for the agenda to the Department Chair's office. Reasonable efforts will be made to call for agenda items at least seven days before the meeting and to distribute the agenda by e-mail at least three business days before the meeting.

A meeting of the department will also be scheduled on written request of 25% of the faculty. The Department Chair will make reasonable efforts to have the meeting take place within one week of receipt of the request. The Department Chair will distribute minutes of faculty meetings to faculty by e-mail—within seven days of the meeting if possible. These minutes may be amended at the next faculty meeting by a simple majority vote of the faculty who were present at the meeting covered by the minutes

Special policies pertain to voting on personnel matters, and these are set forth in the Department's Appointments, Promotion and Tenure document.

For purposes of discussing departmental business other than personnel matters, and for making decisions where consensus is possible and a reasonable basis for action, a quorum will be defined as a simple majority of all faculty members eligible to vote.

Either the department chair or one-third of all faculty members eligible to vote may determine that a formal vote conducted by written ballot is necessary on matters of special importance. For purposes of a formal vote, a matter will be considered decided when a particular position is supported by at least a majority of all faculty members eligible to vote. Balloting will be conducted by mail or e-mail when necessary to ensure maximum participation in voting. When conducting a ballot by mail or email, faculty members will be given one week to respond.

When a matter must be decided and a simple majority of all faculty members eligible to vote cannot be achieved on behalf of any position, the Department Chair will necessarily make the final decision.

The department accepts the fundamental importance of full and free discussion but also recognizes that such discussion can only be achieved in an atmosphere of mutual respect and civility. Normally departmental meetings will be conducted with no more formality than is needed to attain the goals of full and free discussion and the orderly conduct of business. However, Robert's Rules of Order will be invoked when more formality is needed to serve these goals.

IX. DISTRIBUTION OF FACULTY DUTIES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND WORKLOAD

Faculty roles and responsibilities are described in the initial letter of offer. Workload assignments and expectations for the upcoming year are addressed as part of the annual performance and merit review by the department chair based on department needs as well as faculty productivity and career development. Depending on their appointment, departmental faculty are expected to contribute to the department's, COM's and/or university's mission through teaching, research, outreach/engagement, and/or service. When a faculty member's contributions decrease in an assigned area, additional activity in one or more of the other areas is expected. Fluctuations in the demands and resources of the Department and individual circumstances of faculty members may also warrant changes.

During on-duty periods, faculty members are expected to be accountable for interaction with students, trainees, service assignments, and other responsibilities. Faculty members should not be away from campus for extended periods of time unless on approved leave. Faculty members are expected to work at a COM/University worksite during normal work hours. Flexibility for an alternate location can be provided through consultation and documentation with the Department Chair or the Dean. On-duty faculty members should not be away from campus for extended periods of time unless on approved leave (see section XII) or on approved travel. Any faculty working out-of-state for more than 30 days in a year must be approved by the Dean of the COM.

Telework exception: Faculty members with responsibilities requiring in-person interaction are to work at a university worksite to perform those responsibilities. Telework and the use of remote, virtual meetings are allowed at the discretion of the Department Chair if such work can be performed effectively, and faculty members are able to fulfill their responsibilities. Telework will be encouraged under certain circumstances if it serves the needs of the Department, college, university, and/or community. The Department Chair has the discretion to require faculty to work on campus if there are concerns that responsibilities are not being fulfilled through telework.

The guidelines outlined here do not constitute a contractual obligation. Fluctuations in the demands and resources of the Department and the individual circumstances of faculty members may warrant temporary deviations from these guidelines.

A full-time faculty member's primary professional commitment is to Ohio State University and the guidelines below are based on that commitment. Faculty who have professional commitments outside of Ohio State during on-duty periods (including teaching at another institution; conducting research for an entity outside of Ohio State; external consulting) must disclose and discuss these with the Department Chair in order to ensure that no conflict of commitment exists. Information on faculty conflicts of commitment is presented in the University's Policy on Outside Activities and Conflicts.

In crisis situations, such as life-threatening disease (COVID-19, for example) or physical dangers (natural disasters, for example), faculty duties, responsibilities, and workload may be adjusted by the Department chair to take into account the impact over time of the crisis. These adjustments may include modifying research expectations in order to maintain teaching obligations. These assignment changes must be considered in annual reviews.

The Department Chair/Division Chief is responsible for ensuring that every faculty member has duties and responsibilities commensurate with their appointment and that the Departmental workload is distributed equitably among faculty. To achieve our goal of becoming a top quartile academic medical center, it is essential that all faculty members are provided with clear performance objectives, and that their efforts are aligned with the mission and goals of the Department and COM. Faculty members are expected to set a high example of collegiality in the workplace with respect for personal boundaries and diversity and inclusion. Faculty members must avoid behaviors that interfere with or adversely affect a community member's ability to learn, carry out research or fulfill the individual's professional responsibilities. It is the responsibility of the Department chair to effectively communicate with each faculty member about performance expectations, to set high standards, to give clear feedback about performance, and to appropriately incentivize high levels of productivity. The Department chair, in consultation with the faculty member, should establish criteria for meeting performance expectations and should establish explicit goals for each faculty member. At the end of the academic year the Chair or Division Chief should meet with the faculty member to evaluate the faculty member's performance with respect to previously established goals. It is essential that faculty members receive clear, objective, and constructive written feedback regarding their performance. It is unhelpful to give unconditional positive evaluations for faculty members who are not meeting expectations. Face-to-face conversation with the Chair or Division Chief as the basis for the written annual performance review is required. The written annual performance review, signed by both the Chair or Division Chief and the faculty is submitted to the College of Medicine.

The Department administration uses the following guidelines to ensure that comparable and equitable duties are assigned to faculty members, and that the scope and nature of these responsibilities are consistent with the type of academic appointment. These guidelines recognize that all faculty members are expected to have responsibilities in some combination of teaching, research, clinical care, and service and that the distribution of these responsibilities will vary among faculty. Fluctuations in instructional demand, departmental resources and particular circumstances may necessitate modification of this policy. It is understood that completion of expected responsibilities does not constitute meritorious performance. Evaluation of meritorious performance requires demonstrable achievements which substantially exceed the expectations for a faculty member. Departure from the expected level in any area may be balanced by increased or decreased activity in other areas.

The nature of activities subsumed under the areas of responsibility and criteria for evaluation (teaching, research, service) are fully delineated in the Department's appointment, promotion and tenure document. Teaching expectations are further described below.

Teaching includes (but is not limited to) formal didactic lectures to trainees, grand rounds presentations, journal clubs, and direction of the clinical activities of trainees. Teaching also includes curriculum planning and development, and coordination of continuing education activities. Teaching or training of medical students, residents, fellows, or non-physician trainees are included in the teaching responsibility of faculty. Didactic teaching assignments are made by the core residency program director who must provide faculty with advanced notice of any assignment. Once a teaching assignment and appropriate notice have been made, the faculty member is responsible for carrying out the assignment or rescheduling it to the satisfaction of the core residency program director. Failure to carry out these assignments may be reflected in a faculty member's annual review and may lead to a modification of future teaching assignments with a resulting increase in duties to mission areas other than teaching. Faculty who fail to demonstrate adequate teaching performance, based on teaching evaluations and contributions to didactic lectures or similar contributions to the teaching mission, will be given the opportunity to demonstrate improvements in their teaching contributions and performance through a remediation process which includes online learning modules and formal mentorship.

Service may include administrative (committee) work for the Department, college, medical center or university, service to the faculty member's profession, or service to the community. Clinical patient care is a necessary but not sufficient component of service. Departmental faculty are expected to be able to demonstrate substantive participation in the other components of the Department's mission including research, teaching, and service. Members of the faculty who participate in clinical patient care will give resident, fellow, and medical student lectures and interactive teaching sessions as assigned by the Chair and/or resident/fellowship/medical student education coordinators.

Scholarly activity includes the generation of new knowledge or creative work which may include publication of original work in peer reviewed journals; obtaining external peer-reviewed funding for research, books or book chapters; a creation of new diagnostic therapeutic or teaching techniques; and invited presentations and/or data presentations at state, national or international meetings. Members of the faculty should submit scholarly articles (original research, case reports, review articles, or book chapters, as examples) for publication on a regular basis. The time allocated to scholarly activities will vary in regard to the other areas of faculty responsibility as well as time constraints pertaining to specific scholarly activities. The proportion of time spent in research is influenced by earning release time through funded grants in which effort of the investigator is funded.

All faculty are strongly encouraged to participate in Department, COM, Medical Center, and/or University governance.

The department recognizes that some of its faculty members bear an inherent additional service burden. That burden accrues when faculty members, often women and/or underrepresented colleagues, are recognized as uniquely positioned to assist with work at the departmental, college, or university levels. Such individuals may be expected to provide more service than normal because their particular expertise, perspective, or voice can help working groups, for example, or task forces or students (through their mentorship of them) understand context, options, and opportunities in new ways. This additional service burden does not derive from volunteerism. Rather, it is an unwarranted and inequitable expectation.

Service loads should be discussed and agreed to during annual performance and merit reviews. When heavy service obligations are primarily volunteer in nature, the Department Chair is not obligated to modify the service load of the faculty member (reduce teaching and/or scholarly obligations). If, however, a heavy service load is due to the faculty member's unique expertise, perspective, or voice, this should be noted in the annual performance review letter. The Department Chair should also consider this additional service burden in managing equity of service loads among faculty.

A. Tenure Track Faculty

Tenure-track faculty members are expected to contribute to the university's mission via teaching, scholarship, and service. When a faculty member's contributions decrease in one of these three areas, additional activity in one or both of the other areas is expected.

Teaching

All tenure-track faculty are expected to contribute to the DOIM's teaching. There is a wide array of teaching roles in the Department of Surgery including supervision and instruction on ward rounds and/or the operating room, in the clinic, delivering didactic lectures to medical students, trainees, and peers, and mentoring of faculty and developing scientists. Owing to the many different clinical and scholarly roles of the faculty of the Department of Surgery, it is not possible to specify minimum expectations for teaching hours. Teaching expectations will therefore vary among faculty members but should conform to the university workload guideline of 40-50% time allocation to total workload. The department chair is responsible for making teaching assignments on an annual basis and may decline to approve requests for adjustments when approval of such requests is not judged to be in the best interests of the department. All tenure-track faculty members must contribute to the mission of education (formal and/or informal instruction, student advising) over the course of the academic year.

Scholarship

All tenure-track faculty members are expected to engage in scholarship according to their career emphasis. The faculty of the department engage in a diverse range of scholarship. These domains and their expectations for productivity are defined in the Department of Surgery's Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure Document. Time devoted to scholarship is determined by the Division Director and Department of Surgery Chair and is dependent on a variety of variables including salary support for scholarly activity, academic productivity, career goals and the missions of the Division and Department. Because of the diversity of faculty careers, more general guidelines for assignment of academic time are not feasible but should conform to the university workload guideline of 40-50% time allocation to total workload. When appropriate to the field of inquiry, faculty members are also encouraged to seek appropriate opportunities to obtain patents and engage in other commercial activities stemming from their research.

Service

Faculty members are expected to be engaged in service and outreach to the Department, university, profession, and community. This pattern can be adjusted depending on the nature of the assignment (e.g. service as committee chair, service on a particularly time-intensive committee, organizing a professional conference, leadership in an educational outreach activity, service in an administrative position within the Department, college, or university).

All faculty members are expected to attend and participate in faculty meetings, recruitment activities, and other Department of Surgery events.

The standard service workload expectation for full-time tenure-track faculty members is 10-20% time allocation to total workload according to the university workload guideline.

B. Clinical Faculty

Non-tenure-track Clinical Faculty hold the titles of Assistant Clinical Professor, Associate Clinical Professor or Clinical Professor of Surgery. As described in the Department of Surgery Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure Document these faculty may have an emphasis on one of three major pathways of scholarship known as Clinical Excellence, Clinician Educator, and Clinician Scholar. Expectations and the nature of scholarship in these pathways are further described in the Appointments, Promotion, and Tenure guidelines.

The standard workload expectations for full-time clinical faculty members are 65-100% teaching, 0-30% scholarship, and 0-30% service.

C. Research Faculty

Research faculty members are expected to contribute to the university's mission via research.

In accord with Faculty Rule 3335-7-34.

A research faculty member may, but is not required to, participate in limited educational activities in the area of his/her/their expertise. However, teaching opportunities for each research faculty member must be approved by a majority vote of the department's tenure-track faculty. Under no circumstances may a member of the research faculty be continuously engaged over an extended period of time in the same instructional activities as tenure-track faculty.

Standard workload expectations for full-time research faculty members are 0-10% teaching (student mentoring), 90-100% research, and 0-10% service, depending on specific expectations as spelled out in the letter of offer.

D. Associated Faculty

Standard workload expectations for compensated associated faculty members are 80-100% teaching, 0-20% scholarship, and 0-20% service, depending on the terms of their individual appointments.

Faculty members with tenure-track titles and appointments <50% FTE will have reduced expectations based on their appointment level.

Expectations for compensated visiting faculty members will be based on the terms of their appointment and are comparable to that of tenure-track faculty members except that service is not required.

E. Modification of Duties

The Department of Surgery strives to be a family-friendly unit in its efforts to recruit and retain high-quality faculty members. To this end, the department is committed to adhering to the College of Medicine's guidelines on modification of duties to provide its faculty members flexibility in meeting work responsibilities within the first year of childbirth/adoption/fostering, or care for an immediate family member who has a serious health condition, or a qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that the employee's immediate family member is on covered active duty in a foreign country or call to covered active duty status. See the college pattern of administration for details. See also the OHR Parental Care Guidebook and the Parental Leave Policy in Section XII.

A faculty member requesting the modification of duties and the department chair should be creative and flexible in developing a solution that is fair to both the individual and the unit while addressing the needs of the university. Expectations must be spelled out in an MOU that is approved by the dean.

X. COURSE OFFERINGS, TEACHING SCHEDULES, AND GRADE ASSIGNMENTS

Each year, the Vice Chair of Education, in collaboration with the individual program directors, will develop a course schedule and teaching assignments in consultation with the faculty, both collectively and individually. While the department will make every effort to accommodate faculty preferences, its primary responsibility is to provide the courses students need at times and in formats, including online instruction, that best meet student needs. To ensure classroom availability, courses must be reasonably distributed across the day and week. Additionally, efforts must be made to align course offerings with student demand and avoid timing conflicts with other courses that students commonly take together. If a scheduled course fails to attract the minimum number of students required by Faculty Rule 3335-8-16, it will typically be canceled, and the faculty member assigned to that course will be reassigned to another course for the current or subsequent semester. Finally, whenever possible, courses required in any curriculum or those with consistently high demand will be taught by at least two faculty members across semesters to ensure that instructional expertise is always available.

If an instructor of record is unable to assign grades due to an unexpected situation (i.e. health or travel), or if they have not submitted grades before the university deadline and are unreachable by all available modes of communication, the Department Chair may determine an appropriate course of action, including assigning a faculty member to evaluate student materials and assign grades for that class. The University Registrar will be made aware of this issue as soon as it is known and will be provided a timeline for grade submission.

XI. ALLOCATION OF DEPARTMENT RESOURCES

The Department Chair is responsible for the fiscal and academic health of the Department and for assuring that all resources—fiscal, human, and physical—are allocated in a manner that will optimize the achievement of Department goals.

The Chair will discuss aspects of the Department budget with the faculty and attempt to achieve consensus regarding the use of funds across general categories. However, final decisions on budgetary matters rest with the Chair.

Research space shall be allocated on the basis of research productivity, including external funding, and will be reallocated periodically as these faculty-specific variables change. After the preliminary/start-up period, faculty members who have not had extramural funding to support their research may be reassigned laboratory space at the discretion of the Department Chair. In the event that a previously funded faculty is without extramural funding for two years, the laboratory space previously assigned to them may, at the discretion of the Department Chair, be re-assigned. The faculty member can share space with a funded faculty, with the consent of that faculty, until the faculty member is able to re-establish their funding at a sufficient level to meet space assignment metrics. Space will be assigned according to the productivity standards established by the Wexner Medical Center, Nationwide Children's Hospital, College of Medicine, Davis Heart and Lung Research Institute, and Comprehensive Cancer Center.

The allocation of office space will include considerations such as productivity, seniority, and proximity of faculty in sub-disciplines and grouping staff functions to maximize efficiency.

The allocation of salary funds is discussed in the Appointments, Promotion and Tenure Document.

Academic enrichment funds will be available to all tenure, clinical, and research faculty to support professional activities, including travel. Details about this support are provided in the faculty member's Letter of Offer or at the start of each fiscal year.

XII. LEAVES AND ABSENCES

In general, there are four types of leaves and absences taken by faculty (in addition to parental leave, which is detailed in the Parental Care Guidebook). The university's policies and procedures with respect to leaves and absences are set forth in the Office of Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Handbook and the Office of Human Resources Policies and Forms website. The information provided below supplements these policies.

A. Discretionary Absence

Faculty are expected to complete a request for absence form well in advance of a planned absence (for attendance at a professional meeting or to engage in consulting) to provide time for its consideration and approval and time to assure that instructional and other commitments are covered. Discretionary absence from duty is not a right and the Department Chair retains the authority to disapprove a proposed absence when it will interfere with instructional or other comparable commitments. Such an occurrence is most likely when the number of absences in a particular quarter is substantial. Rules of the University Faculty (see Faculty Rule 3335-5-08) require that the Office of Academic Affairs approve any discretionary absence longer than 10 consecutive business days.

B. Absence for Medical Reasons

When absences for medical reasons are anticipated, faculty members are expected to complete a request for absence form as early as possible. When such absences are unexpected, the faculty member, or someone speaking for the faculty member, should let the Department Chair know promptly so that instructional and other commitments can be managed. Faculty members are always expected to use sick leave for any absence covered by sick leave (personal illness, illness of family members, medical appointments). Sick leave is a benefit to be used – not banked. For additional details see OHR Policy 6.27.

C. Unpaid of Leaves of Absence

The university's policies with respect to unpaid leaves of absence and entrepreneurial leaves of absence are set forth in OHR Policy 6.45.

D. Faculty Professional Leave

Tenured faculty are eligible for Faculty Professional Leave (FPL), also known as sabbatical leave, in accordance with the standards and requirements set forth in the Office of Academic Affairs' policy on Faculty Professional Leave. FPL was created to give faculty a period of uninterrupted time to invest in their professional development. Activities that entail little or no investment in new skills and knowledge are not appropriate for the program. In addition, faculty should restrict other employment activity during a leave, including employment approved under the paid external consulting policy, to that which clearly enhances the purposes of the leave. FPL proposals generally emphasize the enhancement of research skills and knowledge. However, faculty members may use an FPL for substantial investment in pedagogical or administrative skills and knowledge when these are judged to be mutually beneficial to the faculty member and their academic unit. It is recommended that the faculty member submit proposals to the Department at least three months in advance of the proposed leave.

The Department's Executive Committee will review all requests for faculty professional leave and make a recommendation to the Department Chair based on the following criteria:

1. Satisfactory completion of required applications
2. Submission of a detailed plan for research, clinical activities and/or observations that demonstrates credible potential for
 - a. enhancing the individual's ability to function in his/her/their assigned faculty role and/or
 - b. introducing new and innovative knowledge, procedures and technology for the benefit of the Department, its faculty and its patients and/or
 - c. improving the recognition and prestige of the Department and the University

The Department Chair will review the proposal consistent with the Department's guidelines for Faculty Professional Leave, as described in the Department's pattern of administration. for final approval. Prior to finalizing approval, the Department must verify that all teaching and patient care obligations of the individual requesting FPL are fulfilled without undue imposition of responsibilities upon other Department and division faculty members, and without measurable negative impact on the financial stability of the Department. The Chair's recommendation to the Dean regarding an FPL proposal will be based on the quality of the proposal and its potential benefit to the Department and to the faculty member as well as the ability of the Department to accommodate the leave at the time requested. If approved, the Department will submit the proposal to the Dean or their delegate for approval, who will then submit the document for OAA approval, with leave applications finally recommended to the Board of Trustees

E. Parental Leave

The university, the college, and this department recognize the importance of parental leave to faculty members. Details are provided in the OHR Parental Care Guidebook, Paid Time Off Program Policy 6.27, and the Family and Medical Leave Policy 6.05.

XIII. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION AND OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Information on additional compensation is presented in the OAA Policy on Faculty Compensation. Information on outside activities is presented in the university's Policy on Outside Activities and Conflicts. The information provided below supplements these policies.

The department and college encourage individual participation in outside activities, such as collaborations with government, industry, and other private institutions, because such participation helps advance the college's mission through mutually beneficial partnerships and contributes to social and economic development and increased knowledge. Faculty are required to devote their primary professional allegiance to the university and conduct their university responsibilities with integrity, demonstrating both honesty and transparency. Similarly, all healthcare professionals have an ethical obligation to provide safe, effective, patient-centered, timely, efficient, and high-quality care for their patients.

Faculty members, including faculty with administrative assignments and appointments, are therefore permitted to engage in outside activities to the extent they are clearly related to the mission of the university, they are arranged so as not to conflict or interfere with this commitment to the university or the best interest of the patient and do not create a conflict of interest or conflict of commitment as defined in Outside Activities and Conflicts Policy. Individuals conducting research also must avoid financial conflicts of interest in research. Faculty remain accountable for and have the primary commitment of meeting all formal and informal duties and obligations associated with research, service, instruction, scholarship, and/or clinical practice, and should not in their behaviors suggest that their commitment is to their outside engagements.

Engagement of faculty in outside activities are at the discretion of the Department Chair and the Dean of the College of Medicine and is contingent on the ability to complete all normally assigned academic and clinical roles. Allowable outside activities include, but are not limited to, consulting with pharmaceutical or device companies and medical legal work. Medical legal work includes expert witnesses and independent medical evaluations conducted in which a doctor/patient relationship does not exist. This includes evaluations for disability and civil or criminal legal issues (e.g., patient evaluation, reviewing records, discovery or trial deposition or trial testimony).

The college does not approve outside activities involving the use of confidential or proprietary information, which may include, but is not limited to, technologies, technical information, business information, know-how, ideas, data, materials, processes, procedures, methods, compositions, formulas, protocols, devices, designs, strategies, discoveries, inventions, trade secrets, and other intellectual property.

The college does not approve outside activities with 'Expert Networks'. These types of organizations (e.g., Guidepoint, Gerson Lehrman Group, ProSapient, Techspert, etc.) have been previously associated with insider trading resulting in legal consequences, and the college has determined that the risk outweighs the benefit. Finally, faculty should be cautious of 'Speaker Bureaus' where remuneration offered and paid could violate anti-kickback laws. For additional details see OSUWMC Vendor Interaction Policy.

All time and compensation must be reported through the appropriate university processes described above. Faculty at 1.0 FTE may not spend more than 416 hours of their on-duty time per fiscal year. Consulting during off-duty periods is not subject to time limitations. Total compensation earned through such external activities may not exceed 75% of total annual compensation, to ensure that individual faculty's principal focus does not appear to shift away from their university responsibilities. Requests in excess of this require written justification from the Department Chair and approval from the Dean. In addition, a faculty member's outside activity effort, combined with funded effort commitments, may not exceed 100% of their effort. Faculty who will exceed the maximum hours may choose to reduce their FTE or discontinue outside activities.

For faculty members with administrative assignments and appointments (e.g. Division Directors, Department Chairs, Assistant/Associate/Vice Deans), all paid outside activities and paid professional services are subject to approval and reporting requirements. Such faculty are prohibited from engaging in outside activities when the outside activities overlap with the faculty member's administrative responsibilities to OSU.

For faculty without administrative duties, the following activities are not subject to this policy's approval:

1. Professional service activities that exist apart from a faculty member's institutional responsibilities and that do not entail compensation beyond reimbursement for expenses and/or a nominal compensation for services. These activities include but are not limited to service to governmental and non-governmental agencies such as peer review panels and advisory bodies to other universities and professional organizations; presentations to either professional or public audiences in such forums as professional societies and organizations, libraries, and other universities; and peer review activities undertaken for either for-profit or nonprofit publishers, including grant reviews.

2. Health care activities that are explicitly covered by approved practice plans.

Requirements/Restrictions

1. The procedure for requesting approval is outlined in the Guidance on Faculty External Consulting document (requires login).
2. Outside activities must be approved by the Department Chair/School or Institute Director and Dean's office using the online faculty external consulting form prior to the faculty member undertaking the outside activity.
3. A signed OSU IP addendum signed by both parties must be included for all external consulting agreements.
4. Faculty must use vacation leave (or unpaid leave) for any outside activities that occur during normal business hours, whether the outside activity is paid or unpaid.
 - a. Facilities and services of the university may not be used in connection with compensated outside activity.
 - b. University staff (e.g., assistants or administrators) may not be used to negotiate with companies, submit faculty requests, or book travel related to outside activity, as these agreements are between the company and the faculty member.
 - c. Faculty members may not request reimbursement for expenses related to outside activities.
 - d. All outside activities and compensation must be disclosed in the eCOI within 30 days of College of Medicine approval.

Corrective Actions If a faculty member accepts payment for an outside activity without first obtaining approval or participates in activities that have been disapproved, a complaint may be filed against the faculty member under Faculty Rule 3335-5-04 and the faculty member may lose the privilege of future consulting at the discretion of the Dean of the College of Medicine.

Outside Practice of Medicine As required by the University Board of Trustees, all tenure track, clinical, or associated faculty in the College of Medicine who have a fifty percent or greater University appointment and who are providing patient care services are required, as a condition of faculty employment, to join and remain members of the Central College Practice Group (CCPG). Ohio State University Physicians, Inc (OSUP) was designated as the CCPG by the University Board of Trustees on November 1, 2002.

Ordinarily, clinical services are provided within the facilities of the OSU Wexner Medical Center. Occasionally, a need or opportunity may arise in which a faculty member seeks to provide patient care service in a non-OSU facility. Requests to practice at a non-OSU facility (including Nationwide Children's Hospital) are considered on an individual basis. The approval process requires completion of the University Self-Insurance Program Non-OSU Location application. The request requires the approval of the Department Chair and is then forwarded for College approval.

Tenure track, clinical, or associated faculty in the College of Medicine who have a fifty percent or greater University appointment are not permitted to be employed by other entities for the practice of medicine. The only exception to this policy is for faculty members who are contracted with the Veteran's Administration (V.A.). In those cases, the percentage of the University faculty appointed is reduced proportionally to the V.A. appointment. No other exceptions are permitted.

Policy on Salary Recovery

- Faculty are required to support their salary and/or funding expectations as outlined in their letter of offer or based on expectations outlined in their annual review.
- Per University Faculty Rules, for research faculty, it is generally expected that salary recovery/support will be derived from extramural funds. While salary support for research faculty may not come from dollars provided to the departments by the college, departments may choose to provide funding from individual departmental faculty research funds, start-up funds, and/or department Chair package funds to maintain the faculty member's salary at 100%.
- Unless specifically required by a funding agency and approved by the College of Medicine (e.g. training grants), without cost (aka cost sharing) effort is not permitted.

- Faculty in 9-month appointments will be eligible for off-duty pay (ODP) only if they have satisfied their fiscal obligations. ODP must be supported entirely by extramural funding.
- In addition to salary support, faculty are expected to support their research laboratory as specified in the Workload Policy.

Expenditures

University Policy on Expenditures

Faculty & Staff Appreciation guidelines

Should a departmental faculty member wish to use a textbook or other material that is authored by the faculty member and the sale of which results in a royalty being paid to him/her/them, such textbook or material may be required for a course by the faculty member only if (1) the department chair and/or dean or designee have approved the use of the textbook or material for the course taught by the faculty member, or (2) an appropriate committee of the department or college reviews and approves the use of the textbook or material for use in the course taught by the faculty member.

XIV. FINANCIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Information on faculty financial conflicts of interest is presented in the university's Policy on Outside Activities and Conflicts. A conflict of interest exists if financial interests or other opportunities for tangible personal benefit may exert a substantial and improper influence upon a faculty member or administrator's professional judgment in exercising any university duty or responsibility, including designing, conducting or reporting research.

Faculty members are required to file conflict of interest screening forms annually and more often if prospective new activities post the possibility of financial conflicts of interest. Faculty who fail to file such forms or to cooperate with university officials in the avoidance or management of potential conflicts will be subject to disciplinary action. Resources for Faculty Financial Conflicts of Interest can be found at:

- Office of Research Compliance
- Financial Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form
- Ohio Ethics Law
- Policy on Patents and Copyrights
- Rules of the University Faculty
- Vendor Interaction Policy

In addition to financial conflicts of interest, faculty must disclose any conflicts of commitment that arise in relation to consulting or other work done for external entities. Further information about conflicts of commitment is included in section IX above.

Finally, faculty are expected to disclose any relationship (whether paid or unpaid) with foreign institutions, companies, or collaborators.

XV. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Members of the department with grievances should discuss them with the chair who will review the matter as appropriate and either seek resolution or explain why resolution is not possible. Content below describes procedures for the review of specific types of complaints and grievances.

A. Salary Grievances

A faculty or staff member who believes that his/her/their salary is inappropriately low should discuss the matter with the chair. The faculty or staff member should provide documentation to support the complaint.

Faculty members who are not satisfied with the outcome of the discussion with the chair and wish to pursue the matter may be eligible to file an appeal with the college's Salary Appeals Committee. A formal salary appeal can also be filed with the Office of Faculty Affairs (see Chapter 4, Section 2 of the Office of Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Handbook).

Staff members who are not satisfied with the outcome of the discussion with the chair and wish to pursue the matter should contact Employee and Labor Relations in the Office of Human Resources.

B. Faculty Promotion and Tenure Appeals

Promotion and tenure appeals procedures are set forth in Faculty Rule 3335-5-05.

C. Faculty and Staff Misconduct

Complaints alleging faculty misconduct or incompetence should follow the procedures set forth in Faculty Rule 3335-5-04.

Any student, faculty, or staff member may report complaints against staff to the department chair. The Office of Employee and Labor Relations in the Office of Human Resources can provide assistance with questions, conflicts, and issues that arise in the workplace.

D. Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Misconduct

The Office of Institutional Equity exists to help the Ohio State community prevent and respond to all forms of harassment, discrimination, and sexual misconduct.

1. Ohio State's policy and procedures related to affirmative action and equal employment opportunity are set forth in the university's policy on affirmative action and equal employment opportunity.
2. Ohio State's policy and procedures related to nondiscrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct are set forth in the university's policy on nondiscrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct.

E. Violations of Laws, Rules, Regulations, or Policies

Concerns about violations of laws, rules, regulations, or policies affecting the university community should be referred to the Office of University Compliance and Integrity.

Concerns may also be registered anonymously through the university's anonymous reporting line.

F. Complaints by and about Students

Normally student complaints about courses, grades, and related matters are brought to the attention of individual faculty members. In receiving such complaints, faculty should treat students with respect regardless of the apparent merit of the complaint and provide a considered response. When students bring complaints about courses and instructors to the department chair, the chair will first ascertain whether or not the students require confidentiality. If confidentiality is not required, the chair will investigate the matter as fully and fairly as possible and provide a response to both the students and any affected faculty. If confidentiality is required, the chair will explain that it is not possible to fully investigate a complaint in such circumstances and will advise the student(s) on options to pursue without prejudice as to whether the complaint is valid or not. See Faculty Rule 3335-8-23.

Faculty complaints regarding students must always be handled strictly in accordance with university rules and policies. Faculty should seek the advice and assistance of the chair and others with appropriate knowledge of policies and procedures when problematic situations arise.

G. Academic Misconduct

Board of Trustees Rule 3335-23-15 stipulates that the Committee on Academic Misconduct does not hear cases involving academic misconduct in colleges having a published honor code, although some allegations against graduate students fall under the committee's jurisdiction. Accordingly, faculty members will report any instances of academic misconduct to the Executive Vice Chair, who will involve the Committee on Academic Misconduct, if appropriate, or will otherwise follow the department's procedures for addressing allegations of violations of the professional student honor code.

Professional Student Honor Code

Professionals have a moral responsibility to themselves, to their patients, to their associates, and to the institution with which they are affiliated, to provide the best service possible. Personal ethics require certain inherent elements of character that include honesty, loyalty, understanding, and the ability to respect the rights and dignity of others. Personal ethics require conscientious preparation during one's academic years for eventual professional duties and responsibilities. A continuation of the development of professional efficiency should be accomplished by observation, study, and investigation during one's entire professional life. Strength of character should enable one to rise above prejudice in regard to race, creed, or economic status in the interest of better professional service. To maintain optimum professional performance, one should be personally responsible for maintaining proper physical and moral fitness. Finally, it must be realized that no action of the individual can be entirely separated from the reputation of the individual or of their profession. Therefore, a serious and primary obligation of the individual is to uphold the dignity and honor of their chosen profession by thoughts, words, and actions.
