Subject: Folklore minor revised advising sheet
Attachments: Folklore Minor Advising Sheet 6-1-10.pdf

Dear Melissa,

Please find attached a revised Folklore Minor advising sheet for CAA's consideration. We have deleted the note under the "additional courses" subtitle—the note that was the object of discussion at the 5-26 CAA meeting. The only substantive revisions to the minor have to do with some courses being added and other courses being dropped, and that part of the advising sheet has not changed (compared to the version CAA considered on 5-26). Our hope is that CAA might look at the revised advising sheet at its meeting tomorrow (6-2).

Thank you,
Bernadette

Folklore Minor (FOLKLOR-MN)

Department of Comparative Studies, 451 Hagerty Hall, 1775 College Rd., Columbus, OH 43210-1340; 614-292-2559; <http://comparativestudies.osu.edu>

Folklore is an interdisciplinary field devoted to study of the traditions and everyday practices of different ethnic, religious, racial, gender, occupational, and socio-economic groups. Folklorists study these practices as performances that are relevant to presentation of self; construction of identity; strategies of control or resistance; use of resources; and other aspects of social life. Students are encouraged to concentrate their course work for the Folklore minor in a particular subject area such as folk religion or material culture or in a particular geographical area such as the Middle East or Appalachia. Whatever the particular focus, however, cross-cultural comparison is an essential part of the folklore curriculum.

The minor in folklore requires a minimum of 24 credit hours in core folklore courses and in related courses drawn from several departments. All students must take English 270 and at least one course chosen from the core courses and one from the additional courses listed below, for a total of at least 24 credit hours.

Once the folklore studies program coordinator (or the coordinator's designee) has approved the Minor Program Form, you should file the form with your college or school counselor. For further information about the minor program, contact the Department of Comparative Studies.

Dear Randy:

The Arts and Sciences Committee on Curriculum and Instruction (CCI) unanimously approved a revision to the Folklore Minor on April 9, 2010. Due to the modest nature of the revisions, this proposal was expedited by the Chair of CCI, Rebecca Harvey, the Vice-Chair of CCI, Terry Gustafson, and the Associate Dean for Curriculum in Arts and Humanities, Valarie Williams.

The proposed minor remains at 24 credit hours. A significant number of courses have been added to the minor and it was, therefore, brought to CCI as a revision. The departments involved in the minor determined which courses they wished to add and the additions were approved by the Comparative Studies Department, which administers the minor. Also, several courses were removed from the minor which are no longer offered.

Finally, some additional clarifications were added for students regarding pre-requisites and the number of 200-level courses students are allowed to take under ASC Minor Guidelines. The rule states that "at least half of the hours [must be] at the upper-division level (300 level or above, Philosophy 250, all courses taught by the College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences at the 200 level, and foreign language courses taught in the language at the 200 level)." All of the courses at the 200 level in this minor are taught in English.

The CCI determined these changes to be appropriate and increased choice and clarity for students interested in the minor.

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance as CAA considers this proposal.

Sincerely,

Hi Debbie,

I'm returning the updated minor in Folklore sheet. There are no changes other than to update course listings to eliminate courses that are no longer being offered and to add the courses that have replaced them in departments' course offerings.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks,
