 Re: Arts and Sciences Program Proposals from the Social and Behavioral Sciences Division

Arts and Sciences is pleased to submit the following programs from the Social and Behavioral Sciences Division to the Office of Academic Affairs for conversion from quarters to semesters. The programs have been approved by the faculty members and chair of the originating unit, and reviewed and approved by the divisional advisory panel, a subcommittee of the ASC Committee on Curriculum and Instruction (CCI), and the full CCI. The vote for approval of all programs at the full CCI was unanimous.

Program Name	Academic Plan Code	Conversion Designation	CCI Approval	Last Revision
International Studies Minor	INTSTD-MN	Converted	6/27/2011	Prior to 2006
Public Policy: Social and Behavioral Sciences Perspective Minor	PUBPOL-MN	Converted	6/16/2011	Prior to 2006
Speech and Hearing Science BA	SPHHRNG-BA	Converted	6/27/2011	Prior to 2006

Arts and Sciences General Education (GE) Program: The GE program for untagged B.A. and B.S. degrees in Arts and Sciences was approved by the Council on Academic Affairs on May 26, 2010, after receiving approval from the Arts and Sciences Faculty Senate. All the programs presented here follow the approved GE program.

College of Arts and Sciences Transition Policy: The College of Arts and Sciences is committed to the principles outlined in the university's Pledge to Undergraduate Students. Each unit has a plan on how best to assist its majors and minors through the transition. And the Arts and Sciences Academic Advising Services will advise students on how to transition their GE program. Dual advising is the existing process used in Arts and Sciences and will continue under semesters.

Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals •

Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? No

Re: International Studies Minor Semester Conversion Proposal

Date: May 24, 2011

Larry:

The Sciences subcommittee of the CCI met on Monday to review the semester conversion proposal for the International Studies Minor. The proposal was approved unanimously. The minor consists of nine specializations (though the document itself lists each as a separate minor rather than as so many specializations of one common minor, an inconsistency that might need to be addressed). Each minor/specialization is a straight conversion from its quarter version, consisting of one required course and a set of electives to total 15 hours. The exception is Security and Intelligence, which has two required courses rather than one. The subcommittee found only a few minor issues that need to be addressed, listed below.

- The list of semester courses and the semester advising sheet for the West European Studies specialization includes IS 3350E. Should this be IS 3350 (rather than the E version), or perhaps either IS 3350 or IS 3350E?
- The Middle East Specialization includes a typographical error on the list of semester courses and on the quarter advising sheet. History 3351/542.01 “Intellectual and Social Movements in the Muslim World” is incorrectly listed as “Intellectual and Social Movements Muslin (sic) World” (“in the” should be added and “muslin” corrected).
- A credit limit might be noted for S/U courses in the minor, including IS 5191 and IS5195.
- On the Rationale for each minor/specialization, “course” in the second line should be plural to read: “the subtraction of courses no longer offered...”
- Finally, the rule concerning overlap with GE requirements will need to be added on the semester advising sheets.

Once these issues have been addressed, this proposal will be ready go forward and so, given these corrections, we move the proposal to the full CCI with a recommendation for its approval. If I can answer any questions about the proposal or our comments please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thanks.

Professor Larry Krissek
Chair, Arts and Sciences CCI

Dear Professor Krissek:

The Undergraduate International Studies Program (UGISP) is home to the International Studies (IS) major (BA) with ten specializations, which are:

1. Africa;
2. East Asia;
3. Eastern Europe;
4. Latin America;
5. Middle East;
6. Western Europe;
7. Development;
8. International Relations & Diplomacy;
9. Security & Intelligence;
10. World Economy & Business.

UGISP is also the home of the Globalization major (BA).

An external review team (ERT) assessed the IS program and its ten specializations and minors at the end of 2007. While recognizing the quality of the IS major, the ERT thought that the foreign language requirement could be strengthened and that some additional in-depth, upper division rigor would improve the major's quality. In response to these suggestions, UGISP's semester conversion plan has added the requirement that majors take a minor in a foreign language and added an additional upper division required course.

The Social Sciences Disciplinary Advisory Panel (SS DAP) reviewed the specializations of the IS major and made suggestions to improve an already well thought out conversion plan. With the inclusion of these suggestions the SS DAP and I enthusiastically endorse the IS major and its ten specializations and submit them to you for CCI's review.

The Globalization major is independent of the IS major and relatively new. Nevertheless it was determined that the Globalization major should adopt the recommendations of the ERT for UGISP to strengthen the foreign language requirement by requiring a minor and add an in-depth upper division requirement. The SS DAP reviewed the Globalization Studies major and recommended some improvements to the very good conversion plan, which were accepted. The SS DAP and I then strongly endorsed the semester conversion plan for the Globalization Studies major and now submit it to CCI for its consideration.

Finally, UGISP also sponsors ten minors, nine of them related to International Studies specializations and one tied to the Globalization Major. They are:

1. African Studies
2. Development Studies
3. East Asian Studies
4. International Relations & Diplomacy
5. Latin American Studies
6. Middle East Studies
7. Security & Intelligence
8. Slavic & East European Studies
9. West European Studies
10. Globalization

These minors were reviewed by the SS DAP, which made suggestions for minor improvements to semester conversion plans. These suggestions were incorporated into the plans and SS DAP and I strongly endorse the conversion plans and submit them to CCI for its consideration.

Sincerely,

Gene E. Mummy

MINOR IN AFRICAN STUDIES SPECIALIZATION

Cover letter for Quarter-to-Semester (Q to S) Proposals from the Undergraduate International Studies Program (UISP)

This letter is intended to lay out the proposed changes to the minors offered by UISP under the Q to S conversion in 2012. The changes are in fact very few. The overwhelming norm is for simple conversion from 25-hour minors under quarters to 15-hour ones under semesters. The only change to the quarter-based curricula is that, after an extensive review of current course offerings across the university, new courses have been added where appropriate and some others have been dropped because they are no longer offered.

- b. Undergraduate Minors

MINORS: International Studies is an interdisciplinary program offering minors in 9 specializations. These are:

- i) African Studies
- ii) East Asian Studies
- iii) Latin American Studies
- iv) Middle East Studies
- v) Slavic & East European Studies
- vi) West European Studies
- vii) Development Studies
- viii) International Relations & Diplomacy
- ix) Security & Intelligence

UISP also has administrative responsibility for a separate minor entitled Globalization Studies. It will be the subject of a separate semester conversion request.

All nine minor specializations are 15-semester hours in length and draw on courses from teaching units across the campus. In eight of them, there is one required course and in the ninth, Security & Intelligence, there are two. This is because students have to be introduced to the two separate components of the specialization, security and intelligence. The remaining elective courses in each specialization are chosen in consultation with an advisor.

A minor in IS is available to any university student who is not majoring in the program. The minor is also available to IS majors as long as their major is in one of the Area Studies (Africa, East Asia, Latin America, Middle East, Slavic & Eastern Europe and Western Europe) or Thematic specializations (Development, International Relations & Diplomacy, Security & Intelligence and World Economy & Business) and their minor comes from the other grouping.

Up to fifteen quarter hours (nine semester hours) of relevant study abroad credit can count toward the IS minor.

1. Rationale for program changes and a description of how changes will benefit students and enhance program quality

The only program change is the addition of courses that have become available since the last compilation and, of course, the subtraction of courses no longer offered. Students therefore get a more accurate listing of the courses offered in each minor specialization and avoid the disappointment of finding that a course that attracted them to the minor is no longer offered.

Transition Policy

Because changes to the minor curriculum are so small, students who began their degree under quarters will not be penalized as we move to semesters, either in terms of progress towards completion or expected date of graduation. Those who enter the university before Summer 2012 will complete five courses (quarter or semester) for their minor. The sequencing of classes in each minor specialization is very flexible and the large majority of the classes used in them are offered regularly. We do not see the need for any bridge courses in International Studies.

MINOR IN LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES SPECIALIZATION

Cover letter for Quarter-to-Semester (Q to S) Proposals from the Undergraduate International Studies Program (UISP)

This letter is intended to lay out the proposed changes to the minors offered by UISP under the Q to S conversion in 2012. The changes are in fact very few. The overwhelming norm is for simple conversion from 25-hour minors under quarters to 15-hour ones under semesters. The only change to the quarter-based curricula is that, after an extensive review of current course offerings across the university, new courses have been added where appropriate and some others have been dropped because they are no longer offered.

MINORS: International Studies is an interdisciplinary program offering minors in 9 specializations. These are:

- i) African Studies
- ii) East Asian Studies
- iii) Latin American Studies
- iv) Middle East Studies
- v) Slavic & East European Studies
- vi) West European Studies
- vii) Development Studies
- viii) International Relations & Diplomacy

UISP also has administrative responsibility for a separate minor entitled Globalization Studies. It will be the subject of a separate semester conversion request.

All nine minor specializations are 15-semester hours in length and draw on courses from teaching units across the campus. In eight of them, there is one required course and in the ninth, Security & Intelligence, there are two. This is because students have to be introduced to the two separate components of the specialization, security and intelligence. The remaining elective courses in each specialization are chosen in consultation with an advisor.

A minor in IS is available to any university student who is not majoring in the program. The minor is also available to IS majors as long as their major is in one of the Area Studies (Africa, East Asia, Latin America, Middle East, Slavic & Eastern Europe and Western Europe) or Thematic specializations (Development, International Relations & Diplomacy, Security & Intelligence and World Economy & Business) and their minor comes from the other grouping.

Up to fifteen quarter hours (nine semester hours) of relevant study abroad credit can count toward the IS minor.

1. Rationale for program changes and a description of how changes will benefit students and enhance program quality

The only program change is the addition of courses that have become available since the last compilation and, of course, the subtraction of courses no longer offered. Students therefore get a more accurate listing of the courses offered in each minor specialization and avoid the disappointment of finding that a course that attracted them to the minor is no longer offered.

Transition Policy

Because changes to the minor curriculum are so small, students who began their degree under quarters will not be penalized as we move to semesters, either in terms of progress towards completion or expected date of graduation. Those who enter the university before Summer 2012 will complete five courses (quarter or semester) for their minor. The sequencing of classes in each minor specialization is very flexible and the large majority of the classes used in them are offered regularly. We do not see the need for any bridge courses in International Studies.

MINOR IN WEST EUROPEAN STUDIES SPECIALIZATION

Cover letter for Quarter-to-Semester (Q to S) Proposals from the Undergraduate International Studies Program (UISP)

This letter is intended to lay out the proposed changes to the minors offered by UISP under the Q to S conversion in 2012. The changes are in fact very few. The overwhelming norm is for simple conversion from 25-hour minors under quarters to 15-hour ones under semesters. The only change to the quarter-based curricula is that, after an extensive review of current course offerings across the university, new courses have been added where appropriate and some others have been dropped because they are no longer offered.

- a. Undergraduate bachelors degree programs and/or majors

- b. Undergraduate Minors

MINORS: International Studies is an interdisciplinary program offering minors in 9 specializations. These are:

- i) African Studies
- ii) East Asian Studies
- iii) Latin American Studies
- iv) Middle East Studies
- v) Slavic & East European Studies
- vi) West European Studies
- vii) Development Studies
- viii) International Relations & Diplomacy
- ix) Security & Intelligence

UISP also has administrative responsibility for a separate minor entitled Globalization Studies. It will be the subject of a separate semester conversion request.

All nine minor specializations are 15-semester hours in length and draw on courses from teaching units across the campus. In eight of them, there is one required course and in the ninth, Security & Intelligence, there are two. This is because students have to be introduced to the two separate components of the specialization, security and intelligence. The remaining elective courses in each specialization are chosen in consultation with an advisor.

A minor in IS is available to any university student who is not majoring in the program. The minor is also available to IS majors as long as their major is in one of the Area Studies (Africa, East Asia, Latin America, Middle East, Slavic & Eastern Europe and Western Europe) or Thematic specializations (Development, International Relations & Diplomacy, Security & Intelligence and World Economy & Business) and their minor comes from the other grouping.

Up to fifteen quarter hours (nine semester hours) of relevant study abroad credit can count toward the IS minor.

Transition Policy

Because changes to the minor curriculum are so small, students who began their degree under quarters will not be penalized as we move to semesters, either in terms of progress towards completion or expected date of graduation. Those who enter the university before Summer 2012 will complete five courses (quarter or semester) for their minor. The sequencing of classes in each minor specialization is very flexible and the large majority of the classes used in them are offered regularly. We do not see the need for any bridge courses in International Studies.

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS & DIPLOMACY SPECIALIZATION

Cover letter for Quarter-to-Semester (Q to S) Proposals from the Undergraduate International Studies Program (UISP)

This letter is intended to lay out the proposed changes to the minors offered by UISP under the Q to S conversion in 2012. The changes are in fact very few. The overwhelming norm is for simple conversion from 25-hour minors under quarters to 15-hour ones under semesters. The only change to the quarter-based curricula is that, after an extensive review of current course offerings across the university, new courses have been added where appropriate and some others have been dropped because they are no longer offered.

- a. Undergraduate bachelors degree programs and/or majors
n/a
- b. Undergraduate Minors

MINORS: International Studies is an interdisciplinary program offering minors in 9 specializations. These are:

- i) African Studies
- ii) East Asian Studies
- iii) Latin American Studies
- iv) Middle East Studies
- v) Slavic & East European Studies
- vi) West European Studies
- vii) Development Studies
- viii) International Relations & Diplomacy
- ix) Security & Intelligence

UISP also has administrative responsibility for a separate minor entitled Globalization Studies. It will be the subject of a separate semester conversion request.

All nine minor specializations are 15-semester hours in length and draw on courses from teaching units across the campus. In eight of them, there is one required course and in the ninth, Security & Intelligence, there are two. This is because students have to be introduced to the two separate components of the specialization, security and intelligence. The remaining elective courses in each specialization are chosen in consultation with an advisor.

A minor in IS is available to any university student who is not majoring in the program. The minor is also available to IS majors as long as their major is in one of the Area Studies (Africa, East Asia, Latin America, Middle East, Slavic & Eastern Europe and Western Europe) or Thematic specializations (Development, International Relations & Diplomacy, Security & Intelligence and World Economy & Business) and their minor comes from the other grouping.

Up to fifteen quarter hours (nine semester hours) of relevant study abroad credit can count toward the IS minor.

For the record, no programs are being withdrawn.

Thank you for your attention to these proposals.

1. Rationale for program changes and a description of how changes will benefit students and enhance program quality

The only program change is the addition of courses that have become available since the last compilation and, of course, the subtraction of courses no longer offered. Students therefore get a more accurate listing of the courses offered in each minor specialization and avoid the disappointment of finding that a course that attracted them to the minor is no longer offered.

Transition Policy

Because changes to the minor curriculum are so small, students who began their degree under quarters will not be penalized as we move to semesters, either in terms of progress towards completion or expected date of graduation. Those who enter the university before Summer 2012 will complete five courses (quarter or semester) for their minor. The sequencing of classes in each minor specialization is very flexible and the large majority of the classes used in them are offered regularly. We do not see the need for any bridge courses in International Studies.
