RE: DEACTIVATION OF FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES EDUCATION MINOR

The faculty and administration of the College of Education and Human Ecology (EHE) have approved deactivation of the minor in Family and Consumer Sciences Education in the Department of Educational Studies. The proposal was approved by the EHE Curriculum Committee.

The College has been in contact with Arts and Sciences to remove the minor from the list of minors offered by The Ohio State University. At the time of the proposal's submission there were no students in the minor and no student had completed the minor in the last two years. If there are students who have enrolled in the meantime, faculty and advising will work to ensure a path for completion of the minor.

EHE approves the deactivation of the minor in Family and Consumer Sciences Education in the Department of Educational Studies and requests approval from the Council on Academic Affairs. If there are any questions, please contact me at warnick.11@osu.edu or our curriculum coordinator, Sarah Odum, at odum.11@osu.edu.

Committee Members:

The purpose of this letter is to formally request the termination of the university minor in Family and Consumer Sciences Education. This minor is not presently being utilized by students, as there are presently no students enrolled, and none have completed the minor in the last two years. Attempts have been made to market the minor, and they have proven unsuccessful, so we would like to request the termination of the minor.

If there are any questions, please contact me.

Sincerely,

The family and consumer sciences education minor is designed to provide foundational knowledge about family and consumer sciences education within the school and community and to offer essential courses for the post-baccalaureate family and consumer sciences education licensure program. Courses for the minor are prerequisites for the FCS teacher licensure (post-baccalaureate/fifth year FCS teacher preparation) program.

Students choosing to minor in Family and Consumer Sciences Education may wish to explore FCS Education as a possible career choice in schools or Cooperative Extension. Or they may be interested in studying current issues within the larger social context of the family, education, culture, and society and/or learning more about schools and schooling in today's society.

The minor in family and consumer science education consists of 14-15 credit hours. After an advisor in the PAES Office of Student & Alumni Services has approved your Minor Program Form, you should file the form with your college or school counselor. For further information about the minor program, contact the school.
